New Saanich High School Is Opened By Premier Tolmie

Warm Congratulations Extended Saanich Upon Notable Development; Governor-General's Bronze Medal Presented to Pansy Margaret Bartle by Minister of Education.

Warmly congratulating Saanich upon its development as indicated by the necessity of opening and operating its own high school, Premier S. F. Tolmie this afternoon officiated at the formal opening of the new high school being conducted temporarily in part of Tolmie School.

A large audience of parents and students attended the ceremony. Introduced by Frank V. Hobbs, chairman of the Saanich School Board, Dr. Tolmie recalled the development of Saanich from the early days, and pointed to the vital importance which education held in the progress of communities. He expressed pleasure that Saanich had kept full pace with the other municipalities of British Columbia in provision of adequate educational facilities and believed that the pupils to-day attending the schools of the municipality would play a great part in the coming progress of the Province.

The Premier was warm in appreciation of the labors of former school boards on behalf of the children, and congratulated the present board on its successful temporary solution of the problem involved in provision of such excellent high school facilities at short notice and under unusual difficulties. Dr. Tolmie then declared the new high school open.

MEDAL PRESENTED
Pansy Margaret Bartle, who won the Governor-General's bronze medal by a great record in the entrance examinations, when a student at Cleveley School, was presented with the medal by Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education.

Mr. Hinchcliffe also distributed certificates to the students who passed the annual entrance examinations, after having briefly spoken on the value of education. The Minister urged all young people in Saanich to take the fullest advantage of the excellent educational facilities available in the municipality, and congratulated the School Trustees upon their successful administration of school affairs despite serious handicaps originating in the great size of the area served.

C. H. Unverzagt Is To Appear In Vancouver Court

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—Charged with making false statements calculated to induce persons to invest, Charles Henry Unverzagt of the Lightning Creek Gold Gravel and Drainage Company was arrested by Vancouver police officers this morning.

The arrest, which was made by Detective Sergeant W. C. Grant and Detective A. Hann, was the third made by the Vancouver police in a campaign against alleged illegal stock operations.

Ball was set at $5,000 for the accused, who will appear in police court tomorrow.

COSTE'S PLANE'S WHEREABOUTS STILL MYSTERY

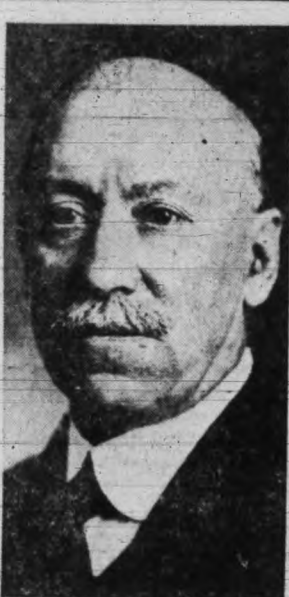

Moscow, Oct. 2.—A Chita dispatch to the Soviet civil aviation authorities to-day—unconfirmed elsewhere—said the plane of Captain Dieudonne Coste, French aviator, and his mechanic, had been sighted over the Manchurian border September 30, three days after they had left Paris for Vladivostok.

At the same time the authorities received a dispatch from Krensh, on the Lena River, saying the two aviators aboard their plane, the Question Mark, had been seen passing over that city Saturday.

In an interview in which he shouted from the front seat of his monoplane to a Vancouver newspaperman he had with him on a flight yesterday, he said:

"Already, back east, there are whisperers of plans for forming a Canadian Schneider Cup team. Aircraft engineers are working secretly to develop something that will create a record. It is a long, heart-breaking job, of course, but sooner or later Canada is bound to be over there. My guess is 1935."

BIG DINING CAR FRAUDS FOUND

New Haven and Hartford Railway Stops Its Own and Customers' Losses

Boston, Oct. 2.—Alleged confessions of a dining car steward and three waiters employed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway to-day revealed what detectives said was a wholesale scheme to defraud the reduction of the portions served in the dining cars and an appropriation of receipts due the latter.

The detectives said the waiters involved had failed to turn in money which they collected for meals, after giving half to the steward, who in turn split with the pantryman.

The waiters, as a rule, pocketed half of the amount of the customer's check for themselves.

In order to conceal the fact that more food should have been served than the actual receipts showed, the pantryman reduced the ordered portions by about two-thirds, it was asserted.

Albert B. Fall Asks Charge Be Dismissed

Washington, Oct. 2.—Justice William Hitz in the District of Columbia Supreme Court to-day took under advisement the plea of Albert B. Fall that the bribery indictment against him should be dismissed on the ground that the case had been closed by Fall's acquittal for conspiracy in connection with the Elk Hills, Calif., oil leases.

along at 550 miles an hour. Orville's record will be broken within a year."

Captain Parkinson said the cost of sending the victorious British team to Calicut this year had exceeded $1,250,000.

"Canadians are born airmen," he said. "At the end of the World War they were the conquerors of the air. Then they let things drop for six or seven years. But they can restore themselves to that position by an effort to take the world's speed honors. I expect they will before my hair is grey."

FIRST OF ITS KIND
When Capt. Parkinson landed here Monday he completed the first "comical" flight from Montreal to this coast ever made. The last stage of the journey was from Grand Forks, B.C. He hopes to fly back to Montreal.

NEW BLOCK APARTMENTS ON YATES ST.

Victoria Realty Building Ltd. Take Out Permit For $50,000 Structure

Two and a Half Story Stucco Block to Be Erected at Yates and Ormond Streets

Leading the van of an active fall building programme, the Victoria Realty Building Limited took out a permit at the City Hall this morning for a two-and-a-half-story stucco apartment building at 1189 Yates Street, to cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. The initial permit was taken out for $47,500, but other additions are anticipated.

Plans for a modern, up-to-date structure containing forty-four rooms and a basement were drawn by Percy Fox, and construction will be started at once. The exterior of the building will be of handsome design, while interior finishing will include the latest in modern apartment construction, it is stated.

The site is that near the southeast intersection of Yates and Ormond Streets, where rising ground gives a panoramic view of Yates Street. The apartment building will be in the near business area, and within easy reach of schools and theatres. The Victoria Realty Building Company are named as the owners and builders of the structure.

Other plans, running into considerable sums of money, were said to be maturing in the city to-day for an active fall building programme. Both business and residential types of buildings are planned to a considerable aggregate value. The release of the plans, in most cases, will come within the next few weeks, it is believed, and will benefit all sections of the city and district.

STRIKE RIOT IN CAROLINA CAUSES THREE DEATHS

Number Injured in Fight To-day at Cotton Mill at Marion

Marion, N.C., Oct. 2.—Three men lost their lives, at least one were in a hospital here at day's end, as a result of a strike at the gates of the Marion Manufacturing Company's cotton mill early to-day.

Five other persons were suffering from less serious wounds from pistols and clubs.

The riot followed a strike of part of the night force at the mill called by the United Textile Workers' Union because it was claimed the owners of the plant had failed to keep an agreement made when a nine-weeks' strike was settled two weeks ago.

The killed men, and fifteen of the injured were shot. Sheriff C. P. Adkins and three deputies were beaten.

The walkout came without notice at 1 o'clock this morning. At 6:30 o'clock the strike changed, workers entering and leaving the mill were accosted by pickets. Several flights started and someone fired a shot.

A. A. Vickers and Randolph Hall, union members, fell dead. Twelve union members, two non-union men and a deputy sheriff, were taken to the Marion General Hospital with bullet wounds.

ACT BANNING LIQUOR EXPORTS IS EXPECTED

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The Ottawa Evening Journal to-day says: "The announcement by Premier King yesterday that the Government has not the power to prohibit the export of liquor to the United States is interpreted in Washington political circles to-day to indicate that at the next session of Parliament the Government will introduce legislation to ban the export of liquor across the border. This would be done by refusing clearance to shipments intended for American consumption. If the Government sponsors a resolution to prohibit liquor exports, there is no doubt the measure will carry in the House."

U.S. Bankers Elect J. G. Lonsdale Head

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—Election of J. G. Lonsdale of St. Louis to be president of the American Bankers' Association for the next year, and an address on "The need of a new banking policy," by the comptroller of the federal currency, John W. Pole of Washington, D.C., were two outstanding pieces of business at to-day's general session of the fifty-fifth annual convention of the association.

New Home For League of Nations

The picture above shows President Guerrero of Salvador, president of the League Assembly, laying the cornerstone of the new "Palace of Peace," an event witnessed at Geneva shortly before the 1920 Assembly adjourned a week ago. The structure, costing $5,000,000, will be one of Europe's most beautiful buildings.

U.S. Inquiry Is Postponed For MacDonald Visit

Washington, Oct. 2.—On the verge of an expected call for a new naval limitation conference, the Senate Shearer investigating committee to-day had clamped the brakes on its inquiry into what took place two years ago at the unsuccessful Geneva conference.

Meanwhile the Senate itself, spurred by disclosures made at the Shearer inquiry and statements that efforts had been made to influence tariff legislation, had directed its judiciary committee, headed by Senator Norris of Nebraska, to conduct a general investigation of lobbying under the sweeping terms of the Caraway resolution. When it will remain to be decided.

With Premier MacDonald hearing the United States coast, the Shearer committee decided to postpone further work until he had concluded his visit with President Hoover—generally regarded as for the purpose of cementing more firmly the friendly conversations which have already taken place between London and Washington on the limitation of naval armaments.

ARRIVING POSTPONED
This decision of the committee will postpone during Mr. MacDonald's sojourn an airing of a so-called British document received by the committee yesterday without being made public, which purported to show the existence in this country of an extensive espionage system reporting to London.

Sir William Wiseman, named by William B. Shearer as author of the paper, sent a formal denial to the committee, describing the document as an absurd and clumsy forgery.

Committee members are considering a formal denial to the committee, which purported to show the existence in this country of an extensive espionage system reporting to London.

TOLL OF STORM THIRTEEN LIVES

Property Losses in Georgia, Alabama and Florida Are Reported

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 2.—As the fury of the tropical rain blew itself out somewhere near the Virginia Capes to-day, deaths were added to the seven it took at Nassau, Bahamas, last week, before it circled the Florida peninsula turned inland near Pensacola and headed northeastward across Alabama and Georgia.

In addition the storm's progress across northeastern Florida, against eastern Alabama and central Georgia was marked by a trail of tangled communication lines and halted railway and road traffic and in scattered localities damaged homes and buildings.

An unidentified man was drowned near Panama City, Fla., as the wind whipped in from the Gulf of Mexico. Dewey Moore, a thirty-six-old carpenter, was killed at Albany, Ga., by the falling bricks of a cotton gin. Mrs. Iphigene Douberly was electrocuted near Valdosta, Ga., by a fallen high-voltage wire and a negro was killed near Valdosta, Ga., when electric wires fell down upon him.

Two negroes were reported killed on a highway near Port St. Joe, Fla.

GENE TUNNEY HAS MINOR OPERATION

Berlin, Oct. 2.—Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion boxer, to-day underwent a successful minor operation at a local sanatorium. The retired champion, soon after the operation, returned to his hotel, where Mrs. Tunney, the former Polly Lauder, joined him.

WOOTTON TO OPPOSE ELLIOTT

City Members Put Up Oak Bay Ticket For Conservative Election

F. C. Elliott, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, for the last couple of years, and known as the "stent strong man" of the organization, will be opposed for re-election to the office at the annual meeting to-morrow night by R. A. Wootton, who is being put up by the four city members of the Legislature. It was announced to-day at Conservative headquarters.

William Duck, who has been secretary of the association under Mr. Elliott, is not running for office again, as he has been elevated to a post in the Land Registry Office. Leonard Tait, old Conservative Party veteran, will be the candidate for secretary under Mr. Elliott.

Running with Mr. Wootton on the four city members' ticket to oust Mr. Elliott and his associates from the control of the association, is the Oak Bay group, including Alderman J. L. Mara and Roger Monro. Mr. Wootton is also a member of the Oak Bay group. This group has been carrying on a house-to-house canvass of the city, and is expected to meet up for to-morrow night's meeting against Mr. Elliott and his officers, Conservative rooms reported to-day. The association rooms to-day had no official reports on the results of the canvass.

SECRETARY'S BATTLE
It was also announced that Mr. Monro is to battle for the Oak Bay city members group to prevent Mr. Tait being installed in the secretary's office.

DAUGHTER OF PREMIER TO GO TO HOOVER CAMP

Expected Isabel MacDonald Will Visit Virginia as Well as Washington

Washington, Oct. 2.—(By Marguerite Young, Associated Press Staff Writer)—Except for attending official functions of state, Isabel MacDonald may spend her time in Washington seeing it as she chooses.

Coming to the United States only as the daughter of her illustrious father, and not as the official hostess of the British Prime Minister, she will be bound to host no programs by official Washington.

TWO HOSTESSES

MOTOR TROUBLE DELAYS SOVIET FLIERS AT SITKA

Sitka, Alaska, Oct. 2.—Because of motor trouble to-day the flight of the four Russian aviators from Sitka along the British Columbia coast to Seattle was postponed until to-morrow.

The Russians, who are flying from Moscow to New York, had expected to leave for Seattle to-day regardless of weather conditions, but unexpected trouble with the motors caused another postponement of the next leg of the flight.

The four aviators said they would overhaul the two 600-horsepower motors of their monoplane to-day and start early to-morrow for Seattle. They have been here since Sunday, when they arrived from Seward after a flight along the Aleutian Islands from Siberia.

It was raining steadily to-day and a southwest wind was blowing.

HONORARY DEGREE FOR MacDonald

Washington, Oct. 2.—An honorary degree will be conferred on Premier MacDonald by George Washington University during his visit in Washington.

Dynamite Fails To Save Business Area From Blaze

Twenty-three Buildings in Weymouth, N.S., Destroyed by Fire; Two Stores, Theatre and Apartment Houses Included in the Losses.

U.S. TO SEND NEW AMBASSADOR TO SPAIN SOON

Washington, Oct. 2.—Secretary Stimson to-day announced (Spden H. Hammond of New Jersey had asked to be relieved of his duties as Ambassador to Spain. Mr. Stimson said he did not know the reason for Mr. Hammond's action and he declined to discuss the question of a successor.

Weymouth, N.S., Oct. 2.—Twenty-three buildings, comprising half of business section of this town, were destroyed by fire this morning. Dynamiting of a drygoods store failed to prevent spread of the fire. The total loss is $300,000. The buildings destroyed included two general stores, a hotel, a theatre, several apartment buildings, a blacksmith shop, one residence and smaller commercial establishments.

CITY PAYS BANK LOAN

Advance From Bank of Montreal Retired at Earliest Date For Many Years

Last of $480,000 Working Credit Was Repaid By $20,000 Deposit

The last of the city's annual loan from the Bank of Montreal, in the financing of the early months' operations of the corporation, has now been retired by the repayment of $20,000, the last outstanding portion of the loan, it was stated by Edwin C. Smith, City Treasurer, to-day.

In all $480,000 was drawn from the bank, the greater proportion of the sum being repaid earlier in the year and the loan being retired at the earliest date for many years.

The treasury staff were still busy to-day filing and recording the remainder of the payments made by the city to the bank's account.

Collection ended with a wild rush on the last day, when many thousands of dollars were taken through the treasury wickets and staffs worked far into the night to straighten out the books.

No exact figure could be ascertained to-day for the total collection received on the current year's levy, but this will be known when the present work has been completed and accounts are completed.

Tax payments on the prepaid plan topped the $500,000 mark and total collections are expected to better the percentage collected last year. Penalty additions of a total of 8 per cent will be in effect on October 15.

CITY RECEIVES BONUS ON GRAIN ELEVATOR PLAN

The city reaped the first profit on its industrial programme of assisted enterprises yesterday when the Panama Pacific Grain Terminal Limited lodged a cheque for $5,000 with the corporation on account of the return the city is to receive for its aid in financing the building. The payment is in the form of a bonus, over and above the prepayment of interest sums for debenture holders completed earlier in the year. In this manner the city is to receive $5,000 a year and a percentage of one-tenth of a cent a bushel for all over 3,000,000 bushels stored yearly at the Ogden Point elevator. Victoria, in company with western outlets, may benefit from the present tide in Canadian grain affairs, wherein eastern channels are choked and elevator space is at a premium, it is believed here to-day.

It was raining steadily to-day and a southwest wind was blowing.

FOOTPRINT OF PREHISTORIC MAN IS FOUND IN RHODESIA

Bulawayo, Southern Rhodesia, S.A., Oct. 2.—The imprint in stone of an enormous human foot, indicating a type of prehistoric man of which no trace had hitherto been found, was claimed to have been discovered near the Limpopo River by an Italian scientific expedition which arrived here to-day. Beside indications the man must have been of great stature, indications were present of several ape-like characteristics.

SENATE VOTE IS AGAINST HOOVER ON THE TARIFF

Declaration in Favor of Congress Cancelling Flexible Provision

Washington, Oct. 2.—The Senate to-day adopted the Democratic proposal to restore to Congress the power now lodged in the President to change tariff duties after investigation by the tariff commission.

The vote was forty-seven to forty-one. The Democrats won thirteen Republican votes for their proposal, while four Democrats voted with the regular Republicans against it.

The decision, the first major test vote on the tariff in the Senate, was against the wishes of President Hoover, who had urged retention in the pending bill of the flexible principle. Under the minority proposal the flexible provision, continuing in effect the seven-year-old policy of permitting the President to raise or lower rates to the extent of fifty per cent, would be changed to give Congress the final say on reports on suggested tariff changes from the tariff commission.

H. S. PRINGLE BACK IN CITY
City Solicitor Much Improved For Rest, After Extended Sick Leave
Conditions in British Columbia Prosperous and Prairies Not Downcast

Returning from six weeks sick leave, City Solicitor H. S. Pringle was back at his office at the City Hall today. Mr. Pringle left Victoria in the summer for a tour of interior points, after a prolonged period of poor health.
With Mrs. Pringle and two daughters, the City Solicitor drove over the B.C. Highway route to interior points, visiting Penikese, Nanaimo, and other points. Much improved in health, Mr. Pringle resumed his work at the City Hall this morning.
At Nanaimo the party were in time for the Highland Festival, and Mr. Pringle speaks with pleasure of excellent arrangements made for that event. At Calgary the oil fields provided a real thrill, with the roaring flames by night, and the old-time pioneer style shack-towns by day. Calgaryans are convinced that they have the greatest oil field in the history of the continent, states Mr. Pringle, who found that centre fast growing and optimistic.
Grain in Southern Alberta is of remarkably high quality this year, states the City Solicitor, and while the total yield is considerably less than usual, much of the difference may be made up in the grading. Northern Alberta did not fare so well, according to reports, he said. The party returned by way of Montana, Idaho and Washington.
Reverting to British Columbia, Mr. Pringle spoke of the fine beach on Okanagan Lake at Penticton, where a great expanse of fine sand proves a real attraction in the summer months, and a progressive community in the fruit district is making steady progress.
Throughout British Columbia the party found conditions good, and a general tone of optimism for the future.

IMPORTER ON VISIT TO CITY
W. G. M. Shepherd of Montreal Expresses Amazement at Growth of West

W. G. M. Shepherd, president of W. G. M. Shepherd & Co., Montreal, well-known importer of British products, was a visitor to Victoria yesterday in the course of a tour of the Western Provinces, to study business conditions and trade channels.
Mr. Shepherd is making his first visit to Victoria in the last eight years.

W. G. M. SHEPHERD

"I used to be a regular visitor to this city, but have not been here since 1921," he said. "In the East, however, we are hearing a great deal of Victoria as a winter resort and many of our people are planning to spend their winters here instead of going south across the line."
AMAZED AT GROWTH
During his tour across Canada from Montreal Mr. Shepherd was amazed at the tremendous growth of the western cities.
"When I first came out here, about twenty-six years ago, Vancouver was a town of about 25,000 souls," he commented.
In Alberta, he said, he had been greatly attracted by the Calgary oil fields which he regards as a great source of wealth to the Dominion. The east was just beginning to get interested in them, he said.

WELL MANAGED
Mr. Shepherd spoke of the thrill which he felt visiting the huge farm of the McIntyre Ranching Company, south of Lethbridge. Covering an area of 50,000 acres, this was, to his mind, the finest managed enterprise of its kind in Canada. A herd of 4,000 purebred Hereford cattle was one of the features of this farm. "It was one of the greatest herds I have ever seen in my life," he added.
Mr. Shepherd left last night on the return trip.

The harvest festival service was held at Holy Trinity, Sooke, on Sunday morning, there being a good congregation. The Bishop of Athabasca, who was the preacher, delivered a moving and eloquent address, the service being taken by the vicar, the Rev. H. M. Bolton.
The church was tastefully decorated by lady members, Mrs. Cooke, Mrs. Throp, Mrs. Lock, Mrs. McBride, Miss Cooke and Miss Innes, to whom the thanks of the congregation are due, also to those who kindly donated flowers, fruit and vegetables.
The fruit, etc., used for the decorations is being given away locally.

W. B. SHEARER, PROPAGANDIST, HAS NO JOB NOW

Tells U.S. Senate Committee Hearst "Fired" Him When Naval Inquiry Ordered

Washington, Oct. 2.—Photostatic copies of a purported secret British document which is described as a forgery by the man alleged to be its author were turned over to the Senate investigating committee yesterday by William B. Shearer as the examination of his activities in behalf of United States shipbuilders at the unsuccessful 1927 Geneva naval limitation conference came to a temporary halt.
Turning from his second day's recital of tales of international intrigue and propaganda, Shearer quickly produced the much-discussed British paper when Senator Allen, Republican, Kansas, mentioned it.
In a high-keyed voice the witness told of obtaining the paper in question last winter during the Cruiser Bill debate from Judge Summers.
AFTER MACDONALD'S VISIT
The Kansas senator immediately questioned the authenticity of the so-called British paper. Before he could read a report on it from the navy intelligence branch and before the document itself was read or placed in the record, the committee adjourned its hearings, subject to the call of the chairman.
This call is expected to await the conclusion of the visit in this country of Premier Ramsay MacDonald, who is to arrive here Friday to continue the attempt of Great Britain and the United States to reach an agreement on naval limitations.
Shearer said the purported British document was signed by Sir William Wiseman, "who everyone knows," he continued, "was the head of the British secret service in this country during the war and the chief British spy, and who is now with Kuhn, Loeb & Company."
ADDED NAME
Shearer remarked that Sir William Wiseman's name was added to the paper after he had been told by Judge Summers that Wiseman was the author of the paper. He said Summers had been informed by a man named Wheeler, a secret service operative in Los Angeles.
He said he turned the document over to the navy, and later to former Senator Reed of Missouri, but he did not know what use Reed had made of it.
Within a short time after the committee hearing closed, a telegram from Sir William Wiseman describing the document as a "clumsy, absurd forgery" was received by Chairman Shortridge.
Shearer surprised senators with some of his descriptive adjectives. He referred to Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation as "the Star of Bethlehem," and to Frank B. Kellogg, former Secretary of State, as "nervous Nellie." He insisted Schwab had referred him to a Mr. Homer about doing publicity work for the shipbuilders in 1926.
HAS NO JOB NOW
He disclosed that since he was dropped by the shipbuilders he had worked for William Randolph Hearst and organizing patriotic societies in Hearst's Parlor service with or without appointment. Merrimack Floor, Phone 1670.

WORKED IN HASTE
He related in hurried words how he had hastened to the Navy Department with the document; that Captain Johnson of the navy intelligence service had thanked him for it and had made photostatic copies; and finally how he had gone to the hotel room of Senator Reed of Missouri with the paper.
That was at the time the fifteen-cruiser bill was pending in the Senate last winter. Asked why he had gone to the Missouri senator, the witness said: "He is a staunch defence advocate and an anti-League of Nations man."

be a copy of a letter to Right Hon. David Lloyd George under date of June 10, 1919, and on which my name appears in a manner calculated to infer authorship of the document to me. Without having had opportunity to see the document submitted to your committee, I assume that it is the same so-called secret document extracted from the signature of Shearer in January and February of this year in a newspaper called The Gaelic-American in New York. I wish to record my formal denial that I either wrote or caused the document to be written or had any knowledge of it until some time after its supposed date, when a small pamphlet purporting to be a copy of it was brought to my attention. If it is the document which I assume it is, your committee will appreciate from the document itself it is a clumsy, absurd forgery. On its purported date I was not in New York, but was at the Paris Peace Conference.
Shearer said he understood the so-called British report, which purports to show the existence of an extensive British espionage system in this country, had been taken from the British vice-consul's office in New York. He did not explain further the identity of Judge Summers.

Receiver Appointed For Carbin Coals
Vancouver, Oct. 2.—On the application of Sherwood Lett & Company, at the suit of W. J. Kommers and Frank C. Paine of Spokane, Roy G. Crocker of Spokane and Corbin, B.C., was appointed yesterday by Chief Justice Aulay Morrison in Supreme Court receiver and manager of the assets and properties of Corbin Coals Limited.
The plaintiffs, suing as trustees of holders of 7 per cent first mortgage gold bonds, allege that default was made by the company in interest payment on October 1.
Mr. Lett stated that the principal bondholders would advance to the company sufficient funds to protect all creditors and to enable the company to carry on operations without cessation.
The company operates extensive collieries at Corbin, near Fernie, and has several hundred men on its payroll. The principal shareholders and bondholders are in Spokane and New York, but the company's operations are confined to the Corbin collieries, which have been in operation for twenty years.
The bondholders, explained Mr. Lett, proposed to reorganize the company as quickly as possible.

THE SEAPLANE BASE

THE MAYOR IS REPORTED TO HAVE said at the conference yesterday relative to an adequate seaplane base that in view of the fact that this matter had been before the city and public for eight months and that present proposals had been approved by the Department of Civil Aviation at Ottawa, it was regrettable that the objections raised in the Chamber of Commerce had not been advanced earlier.

As a matter of fact, the whole question of an airport for Victoria, of which the seaplane base is merely one aspect, has been before the civic authorities and the public for eighteen months. It was raised in the Chamber of Commerce early last year when a committee was appointed to press for the establishment of an airport, and to co-operate with the mayor and reeves of Victoria and neighboring municipalities in bringing this about. Last year's council, at the instigation of Mayor Pendray, had a survey made for a seaplane base by an officer of the Department, and the present site was recommended.

The objections to the site which now is being used were made a short time ago by the Canadian Pacific Coast Steamship Service to the port development committee of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Captain Troup is chairman, as well as to the Government at Ottawa. The steamship officials pointed out that it would be impossible to develop a base to any considerable extent without seriously interfering with shipping, and that even now the situation had become difficult. Obviously, with a large increase in port shipping in prospect for next year and with the expected growth of the air business, there would arise a condition which would be dangerous to both services.

As these objections were raised by the head of the Canadian Pacific Coast Steamship Service here, and it is admitted by competent authorities on air navigation that the present seaplane base cannot be expanded, the suggestion was made that an investigation by the Department of Civil Aviation be made into the feasibility of Esquimalt Harbor as a base, and the port development and airport committees of the Chamber of Commerce decided to confer with the City Council and airway officials with a view to having one made.

In these circumstances, the course pursued by the Chamber of Commerce was entirely correct. If an accident involving the loss of life should arise from the congestion of shipping and airways services in the harbor, neither the port development and airport committees of the Chamber of Commerce nor the steamship company could be charged with failure to sound a warning note or to endeavor to improve the situation. While this condition might have been foreseen a year ago, it should be borne in mind that the air service has been operating only about six weeks, and the nature of the problem was not realized until such operation had actually begun.

As everybody must know, air transportation in and out of this port is merely in its infancy. In a short time, if we have the facilities we should have—and should have had long ago—there will be a considerable fleet of seaplanes and landplanes operating between Victoria and the mainland of both British Columbia and the State of Washington, and adequate bases will have to be prepared for both. Whatever may be the situation in regard to a seaplane base, little or nothing has been done to put the landplane base on Lansdowne Road in proper condition, and this keeps us off the map as far as this aspect of air navigation is concerned. Many smaller and less important communities in Canada than Victoria already have been foresighted enough to recognize air transportation as an established fact, and have provided facilities for it.

The only reason the Chamber of Commerce committees recommended an investigation of the feasibility of Esquimalt Harbor as a base was that they were anxious to see the selection of a site which, unlike the present base, would present opportunities for the fullest expansion of seaplane transportation—a vital requirement—in this district. There may be some other place which would serve the purpose better. It seems incredible that the narrow stretch of water of Victoria Harbor is the only place near this city suitable for a seaplane base. In any case, there is no occasion for juvenile recrimination in the discussion of this subject. What is needed is co-operation between all interests, followed by appropriate action, in respect of proper facilities for both seaplanes and landplanes.

THE ISSUE IN AUSTRALIA

WITHIN A FEW DAYS THE ELECTORS of the Commonwealth of Australia will go to the polls to elect a new Government. Premier Stanley Bruce is asking for the endorsement of his policies, while Mr. James H. Scullin, the leader of the Labor Party, encouraged by the Government's defeat in its attempt to obtain the repeal of the Commonwealth Arbitration and Industrial Peace Act, hopes to have a sufficient number of followers elected to enable him to form an Administration and run the country. Rt. Hon. W. M. Hughes, who, it will be remembered, was the war-time Premier of Australia, is running as an Independent, since the Nationalist, or Government, Party refused to endorse him in view of his hostility to the Premier and his vote against him when the Government took the count in committee. The Country Party, which is allied with the party led by the Premier, will rally under the direction of Hon. Earle Page, Commonwealth Treasurer in the Bruce Ministry, who, with two supporters, has been elected by acclamation.

The bill which brought the sudden downfall of the Government was intended, as already pointed out, to repeal the Arbitration and Industrial Peace Act. Had the measure been passed, it would have meant the withdrawal of the Commonwealth authorities from the regulation of industries except in the case of the shipping and waterside industries. Incidentally, this measure is much more drastic than our own Lemieux Act. It not only enforces investigation by a somewhat similar board, but enforces acceptance of its decisions. In his defence of the bill, Premier Bruce contended that the administration of the law by the Commonwealth had become impossible, and the only solution of the problem, in his opinion, was to hand over control to the states, which alone had the necessary means to enforce the law. In further support of his view, he argued that individual industries would be freed from existing trammels, and consequently be put in a position to utilize methods best suited to them for the peaceful settlement of their disputes. Ex-Premier Hughes, on the other hand, argued that the Federal Arbitration Court was the keystone of the industrial arch and the greatest factor in the maintenance of industrial peace in the country. He took the stand that it would be impossible for the individual states to "mete out the same even-handed justice to industry. The debate was one of the most bitter in the Australian House for many years, lasting for forty hours, with nearly every member contributing to it.

After the Australian general elections of last year the standing of the parties was as follows: Nationalists (supporters of Premier Bruce), twenty-nine; Country Party (allies of the Nationalists), thirteen; Labor, thirty-one; Independents, two. The Country Party, it should be noted, is made up very largely of ranchers and farmers led by Dr. Earle Page, and was even stronger in its support of the Prime Minister than the Nationalists. Unlike the Farmer parties as we know them in Canada, the Country Party of Australia is extremely conservative. Its members are among the strongest advocates of protection, are mostly well-to-do, and are bitterly antagonistic to Labor.

Premier Bruce's experiences with Labor, of course, have been very far from happy. When in 1925 the great shipping strike threatened to cripple the country economically, he resorted to methods which even many of his supporters were inclined to consider to be much more vigorous than prudent; and last year, when he appealed to the country, the issue he raised was that of revolutionary Communism versus constitutional authority. Nobody doubted the Prime Minister's sincerity. He was alarmed for the future of his country. But the result of the contest was an indication of the public's opinion of his methods. He won the election, but at a fairly high price. It will be interesting to observe what decision the electors take this time.

TORONTO'S POPULATION

WE HEAR A GOOD DEAL ABOUT the loss of population from those who handle figures very carefully; but if the gains the city of Toronto has made during the last ten years be any criterion of what is going on elsewhere—and we may assume that such is the case—the census of 1931 should show a greater advance than has been expected. Here is the story of Toronto's growth in figures:

1918	489,681
1921	499,278
1922	512,812
1923	522,068
1924	529,083
1925	538,771
1926	542,187
1927	549,429
1928	556,691
1929	569,899
1930	585,628
1931	606,370

Torontonians do not see why their city should not be one of a million people by 1940. There will be a general wish that they realize their hopes. As one city grows, so do others. One part of the country cannot prosper without other parts of the country feeling some of the benefits, indirect though they may be.

RECIPROCITY FOR EAST AND WEST
The Calgary Herald
The west has learned, and has yet to learn, much from the east, and the west is glad to have the experience of the east from which to learn—what to avoid as much as what to accept. It is possible our own experience may furnish some lessons for the east: if so we are glad the beneficial reciprocal exchange is possible. And if the Chambers of Commerce convention of this year results in realization of the economic partnership which its keynote suggests, a fine stroke of business will have been accomplished for Canada.

Loose Ends

This column presents another exclusive weather forecast—guaranteed to be as reliable as the weather—Miss Pullman demonstrates that fathers are useful after all—and Mr. Coolidge is very discouraging.

By H. B. W.

SINCE THIS column made the exclusive announcement recently that there would be no substantial rain here until the middle of October, it has been bombarded by persons eager to know the source of this wisdom. For their benefit we now have pleasure in presenting a detailed and authentic forecast of the weather for the remainder of the year as prepared by our private weather prophet, who year in and year out has scarcely ever been wrong. (Name on request.)

THIS DOCUMENT shows that up to October 7 it will be fine and bright and then on the eighth there will be high winds, followed by a day of good weather. On the tenth a storm will blow up, followed by rain on the eleventh and twelfth. It will improve on the thirteenth and remain good until the fifteenth, when it will be cold, changing to rain on the sixteenth and frost on the eighteenth. There will be a storm with rain from the nineteenth to the twenty-second. From the twenty-third to the twenty-fifth there will be dreary mornings and fine days, but there will be storms and cold on the twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh, with good weather the rest of the month.

THIS COLUMN also is in possession of similar detailed data for November, but space does not permit its publication. It may be said, however, that the weather will be variable for the first week with alternate rain and fine days, followed by a fine spell with frosty nights. By the middle of the month there will be cold rains, turning to sleet. Then it will grow milder until the twenty-sixth, when it will become wet and remain rainy until the end of the month. The first four days of December will be fine, but from the sixth to the eighth it will be wet, and on the eighth there will be snow, followed by clear frosty weather. It will snow on the eighteenth with clear cold weather until the twenty-fourth, when it will snow again, giving us a white fine Christmas. Immediately afterwards this will change to rain and there will be windy, raw weather until the twenty-ninth, when we shall get a real cold snap, lasting only for a couple of days.

AS RELATED before, the gentleman who makes these predictions forecast last year's cold snap a month ahead. He has an uncanny system, and if anything goes wrong to upset it, you may be sure it is the weather's fault, not his. When he makes his prognostications for January and February this column will publish them exclusively, for no other column would do it.

A CERTAIN FAMOUS Miss Pullman has been making quite a stir lately by writing articles for magazines about her "Eugenic Baby." Miss Pullman, you may recall, wanted to have a baby but didn't want to marry, so she did so. Now she is telling magazine readers that she is delighted with the success of her experiment; that her son is going to be a great genius and will write poetry which will "rock the world." At the moment, judging by his pictures, the child is in that early stage before the human animal begins to take on a human look, and eyes the world with a glassy stare.

ANYWAY, MISS PULLMAN says her boy will get on quite well without a father. But in the next breath she shows exactly how handicapped the poor boy will be. For to symbolize his prospective greatness of mind and beauty of body, she has christened him Adonis Aristotele. Father, it is true, are largely superfluous nowadays, when women can earn large salaries, but they occasionally have their uses. No father would have permitted a son to go out into the world crippled under the load of a name like Adonis Aristotele. Rather than that he would have destroyed the child at birth. As for Adonis Aristotele, he will probably repay his mother by turning out to be an able boiler-maker with a small head and large feet. On the whole, a father, while a nuisance, is a rather useful article to have around when one is rearing a family.

MR. COOLIDGE, who used to be President of the United States, has written his autobiography and, appearing as it does in The Cosmopolitan Magazine next to Emil Ludwig's new biography of Lincoln, it shows you that an outsider, after all, is best fitted to record a man's achievements. For, as noted in this column before, a biography like Mr. Ludwig's, showing the weaknesses of a man as well as his strength, reveals him as human.

and encourages the rest of us, despite our infirmities, to keep trying.

BUT MR. COOLIDGE'S record of himself is thoroughly depressing to everyone but Mr. Coolidge. It reveals Mr. Coolidge so obviously picked by destiny to be great, that with all his modesty, he just couldn't help it. When you read it and realize that destiny hasn't picked you out to be anything particular or even to be at all, why then you feel that there is no use trying any more.

MR. COOLIDGE, as he explains himself quite clearly, did everything so well that his success was inevitable. There was no flaw in his preparation for greatness. As they say in the classics, he was good. When you read of Lincoln writing essays on suicide, because he had just killed a lady rather shamefully, it makes you think that maybe you, too, may yet live down your past; but when you read of Mr. Coolidge's painful efforts to be elected mayor of Northampton, Mass., you know you couldn't possibly imitate a man like that, and you give up in despair. Some day someone may write a biography of Mr. Coolidge which he won't be able to censor. Then maybe we shall find some redeeming weakness in the man. He is too perfect now to be of any practical use to the soul of the current generation.

Other People's View

Letters addressed to the Editor and intended for publication must be short and to the point. The longer the letter the shorter the chance of insertion. All communications must bear the name and address of the writer, but not for publication unless the writer wishes. The publication or rejection of articles is a matter entirely in the discretion of the Editor. ## CONSERVATIVE MEETING

To the Editor:—My attention has been drawn to the malicious diatribe in your columns of yesterday by W. C. Fyfe, who is a complete stranger to me.

May I say that his letter is founded upon the merest modicum of truth and the remainder is made up of brutal innuendo and positive falsehood.

I shall never condescend to answer such again, as I firmly believe letters of this class injure the writer more than the supposed victim.

I trust that I may believe that Major Montford is too much of a gentleman to countenance such contemptible tactics.

I am certain that I may safely leave my reputation in the hands of my many friends. LEONARD TAIT.

Ottawa Cabinet Is Considering Position Of B.C. Doukhobors

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Correspondence exchanged between Premier Tominie of British Columbia and the Prime Minister of Canada in respect to the Doukhobors who have been causing trouble in the Pacific coast province has been referred to the Federal Government.

Premier King last evening said he had handed over Premier Tominie's communications to the Department of Justice and that the department had the matter in hand. Mr. King added it was generally understood that the enforcement of law was in the hands of the provinces. If the provinces required the help of the Dominion, there was a method established for obtaining such needed assistance.

British Advertisers Form Affiliation With Canadian Firm

M. F. Travers Cleaver, M.C., president of Travers Cleaver Limited Advertising Agency, 38 Grosvenor Place, London, England, has just left London, Ontario, after having completed an affiliation with McConnell and Ferguson Limited, one of Canada's leading advertising agencies. In an interview to the press, Mr. Cleaver said:

"I came over to Canada with the commission representing the Sales Managers' Association of Great Britain, because I realized the possibilities in this wonderful country. The longer I stay the more I am convinced. I decided to establish an affiliation with a good Canadian advertising agency in order that the clients of my company in Great Britain, who are interested in the Canadian market, would have the advice and experience of a well-organized advertising company in Canada, with offices from coast to coast, and knowing intimately Canadian sales conditions.

"This affiliation also places at the disposal of clients of McConnell & Ferguson Limited a British advertising and sales organization, which knows conditions intimately in Great Britain. The arrangement is therefore, a reciprocal one which will help both British and Canadian sales organizations interested in the two countries.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES
"I consider there are tremendous possibilities for business between the Old Country and Canada, and I am going to do everything I can to foster it. This is my first visit to Canada, and it is my intention to return every year to promote the interests of clients of my company and familiarize myself with conditions here.

"I expect to do considerable public speaking and lecturing in England when I return and hope to be able to assist in influencing the right kind of people to come to Canada. You need a greatly increased population of the right kind. British business men are realizing this more and more all the time and are taking a very keen interest in the great possibilities in Canada.

"When I met Mr. McConnell, president of McConnell & Ferguson Limited, I concluded that he and his company are the people with whom we wanted to be associated. They have the interests of the Dominion at heart and

POLICE MARK LONELY GRAVES IN BARREN LANDS

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The last chapter has been written to the tragic story of the British explorer, John Hornby, and his two young companions, H. E. C. Adlard and Edgard V. Chryslan, who while prospecting in the barren lands perished from starvation in a lonely cabin on the bank of the Thelon River some time after July 1, 1923.

Inspector G. Trundle of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Great Slave Lake division at Fort Smith, who with three companions recently returned to civilization after conducting an inquiry on the deaths of the explorers and gave them Christian burial, has made his report to headquarters here.

Inspector Trundle, accompanied by Corporal R. A. Williams as coroner, Constable E. A. Kirk, cancer man, and M. E. Bobbitt, guide, cook and canoe man, set out from Fort Reliance, at the eastern end of Great Slave Lake, on July 2, and after traveling over rough country, reached the lonely Hornby cabin with its three dead men, mere skeletons, on July 25.

Eno is so Mild and so Good For the Whole Family

ENO is so effective, yet so gentle and soothing, it can be given to any child. You will like it and children soon learn to love its pleasant taste and sparkling bubbleness.

ENO supplies just that help which Nature needs to prevent the accumulation of trouble-making poisonous waste matter in the inner system... to keep those tender bodies inwardly clean and outwardly healthy.

Start giving your children ENO to-day and take it yourself, but remember there is only one ENO's "Fruit Salt"... that non-habit-forming health beverage celebrated the world over for 60 years. Resolutely refuse substitutes.

Colwood

Mr. and Mrs. J. Martin, "Hillbank," have recently had as guests Mr. and Mrs. W. Gilbertson of Collingwood, B.C.

Through the timely action of a passing motorist, J. Scott of Sooke, a serious fire was averted at the home of H. W. Robinson, "Manor Farm," Saturday evening, when the roof became ignited by sparks from the chimney. The weekly card party, under the auspices of the Colwood Hall committee, will be held Wednesday evening. Progressive 800 will be played.

Shirley

Residents of Shirley and Otter Point held a surprise party Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Connel, who have recently come to reside on Otter Point Road.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cave are spending a few weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Anderson, Malahat Farm.

Mrs. W. J. Milligan has returned from visiting her sister, Mrs. Harwood of Hornby Island.

Mrs. V. McGarry of Victoria was a visitor at Shirley over the week-end.

Your guests will praise your home-made mustard pickles

EVERY year, more and more women are making their own mustard pickles, and with Colman's Mustard. They know it's a mark of distinction and good taste to have home-made mustard pickles on their tables.

Decide now to make mustard pickles in your own kitchen this year. By doing this you can select the combination of vegetables you like best—assure high standards of quality, purity and flavour—practice true economy—and win praise from your guests and members of your own family.

75 Story Buildings Found Economical, While 150 Stories 2,000 Feet High, Held Possible

New York, Oct. 2.—The seventy-five-story skyscraper has been tested in all phases of modern structural conditions by a group of experts for the Institute of Steel Construction, and the resulting conclusions, according to W. C. Clark, chief economist of S. W. Straus & Co., who directed the study, give unbiased proof that such a structure is not only economically advisable, but, under certain conditions, will return more on the investment than a building of lower height.

While skyscrapers of 150 stories, towering 2,000 feet, or two-fifths of a mile above the surface, are structurally possible, according to a summary of the report made public today, the economic height is much less. The study also indicates that more efficiency is found in centralized business areas of a commercial city than in decentralized regions.

The conclusions of the study, which required two years, were based upon investigations made upon specific plans for various buildings of varied heights drawn by J. L. Kingston, architect of the staff of Warren & Wetmore. In making the study the co-operation of numerous experts were enlisted.

ENGINEERS DISCUSS REPORT
Engineers of the Institute of Steel Construction met at luncheon at the Engineers' Club, 32 West Fortieth Street, on Thursday to receive the report and discuss with Mr. Clark the solution of the economic height of buildings. The full report of the investigation will be published by the institute in book form within a few weeks. It will include the details of the study made together with all the tables of calculations proving the results.

It was felt by Mr. Clark and by others at the luncheon that the report would put at rest the innumerable controversies over the regulation and limitation of building heights as well as statements regarding the economics of skyscrapers.

As a theoretical city block on which to base the study, Mr. Clark explained, the area bounded by Forty-second and Forty-first Streets, Madison and Park Avenue, was taken. It was assumed that the land value was $200 a square foot and on this basis it was shown that a building sixty-three stories in height reached the point of maximum economic returns. However, when it was assumed that the land value was $400 a square foot, a building of seventy-five stories in height was found to be most economical.

The conclusions were reached upon the supposition that the construction of the building would be restricted by the zoning laws of New York City applying to the midtown area. The net return on an eight-story building, costing $22,193,000 to build, was found to be but 4.23 per cent, proving that the higher land value makes such a low building unprofitable. The return on a sixty-three-story building was found to be 10.25 per cent.

Plans for eight buildings of varying heights were drawn and estimate of income, operating expenses and construction and land costs were made.

The net return on a fifteen-story building was 6.43 per cent; on a twenty-two-story structure, 7.75 per cent; thirty-story, 8.50 per cent; thirty-seven-story, 9.07 per cent; fifty-story, 9.87 per cent; sixty-three-story, 10.25 per cent, and on a seventy-five-story building the return began its decline, going down to 10.04 per cent. These estimates were based on structures constructed on land valued at $200 a square foot.

THE SEVENTY-FIVE-STORY BUILDING

The seventy-five-story structure, according to Mr. Clark, would be economically advisable only under certain conditions of land values, that is, where property sold for $400 or more a square foot. Were it not for economic factors, he said, it would be possible to erect and operate successfully an office building 2,000 feet in height. The study showed that at 131 stories the net return would entirely disappear.

The adequate elevator servicing of such a structure would require an elevator speed beyond the present legal limits as well as new safety devices and ingenious traffic arrangements. Mr. Clark held, such as double decked cars and new combinations of express and local cars which elevator engineers believe entirely practicable.

The two limiting factors which make it impracticable to go beyond the approximate height of 2,000 feet, he said, are the enormous weight of the elevator cables required and the capacity of the average human ear drum to withstand the vibration in an elevator car traveling at a speed exceeding 1,500 feet a minute.

SEES LARGER DEVELOPMENTS

Developments in the central parts of the city, Mr. Clark believed, would be in future on very large areas, possibly entire city blocks. On large lots, he declared, the problems of light and air would be very much simplified. Even in the Grand Central zone, he said, such problems would be solved permanently in a building covering an entire block and with the regulation setbacks.

To answer the contention that skyscrapers were to blame for traffic congestion Mr. Clark conceded that such buildings led to concentration in certain areas, but held that skyscrapers were not the major cause of congestion. He asserted that the major cause of congestion was individual transportation by automobile. In advocating centralized business areas, he asserted that skyscrapers would reduce congestion provided there was mass transportation instead of individual transportation by automobiles.

Tall buildings, he said, tend to reduce horizontal circulation by making it vertical.

Mr. Clark told of atmospheric control in buildings and said that future developments in artificial ventilation would astound every one. He said that owners of inside parcels in certain blocks would in future join with other such owners in co-operative developments covering entire blocks and would realize that occupancy of a section of a large building was more economical than carrying the expense of a single structure.

Mr. Clark made it clear that he did not advocate the construction of such buildings in other than congested sections, but said the study referred only to central business areas where land is expensive and business highly concentrated. He said the study showed a striking coincidence in that it found that land and construction costs must about balance to produce an economic project. Where a lot located for a sixty-three-story building would cost $18,600,000, he said, the building should cost about $20,500,000.

REPORT OUTLINES PROBLEM

The problem which the study attempted to solve has been outlined in the final report, in part, as follows:

"Probably no question before the public to-day is of more interest and importance to the dwellers in our American cities than the current controversy over the regulation and limitation of building heights. Certainly it is difficult to think of any public issue whose decision, whether in the one direction or the other is likely to exert so important an influence upon so many phases of the average urban dweller's daily life. For the skyscraper controversy raises the whole problem of the physical structure of our cities.

"The efficiency of that structure will be reflected in the citizen's pocketbook through its effect on rents, incomes and taxes; its character will go far to determine where and under what conditions he lives and works, his goings and his comings, his expenditures of time and even to a large extent his social relationships. Broad question of public health and safety may also be involved. If the daily round of life is so largely dependent upon the correct answer to this problem of city structure, it is imperative that the average citizen should be given the facts which will enable him to reach an intelligent conclusion upon the points at issue.

"Few public questions are now being debated with more heat and more persistence. At the one extreme we have a group of critics, chiefly city planners of the more doctrinaire type, who are bitter and extravagant in their criticism of the skyscraper, who find in it the source of most of the evils in our city life and who advocate a definite restriction of building height to a maximum of eight or ten stories. At the other extreme is a school of protagonists who are enthusiastic and even lyrical in their praise of the skyscraper, who see in it both a necessary result of American conditions and a characteristic product of American genius, and who protest against any attempt to restrict or regulate its development. Hanging between these two extremes are individual thinkers who are willing to see both sides of the question, who appraise pros and cons on the basis of their individual experience of such facts as happen to be available to them, and who favor moderate programmes of restriction or regulation based on their individual appraisals of merits and defects. As usual, however, it is the extremists who are most vocal and, in the face of their vague generalities and conflicting claims, the average citizen stands confused and confounded.

While in the public mind to-day the strongest count in the indictment of the skyscraper is probably its alleged influence in increasing traffic and population congestion, there is another argument which demands prior consideration for reasons to be discussed later. This is the contention that the tall building is an economic fallacy—that even from the private owner's point of view it does not 'pay' and therefore should not be permitted. Now the solicitude of the critic for the poor building owner who foolishly insists on putting his money into unprofitable investments is somewhat amusing and hardly consistent with the claim that the latter is a robber of values that rightfully belong to others, that he who is allowed to build a tall building is given an economic advantage which should be compensated for by heavier taxation, etc. However, if we are willing to overlook such patent inconsistencies, we will recognize in this 'economic fallacy' argument an ingenious flank attack upon the position of the skyscraper enthusiast.

"Indeed, if this one point could be proved, the whole battle against the skyscraper would be won. Obviously, if it can be conclusively demonstrated that tall buildings as a class are unprofitable or less profitable than low buildings, investors will cease to erect such structures and legislators will not hesitate to discourage them. If the tall building per se involves the sacrifice of private rights, the courts will be apt to interpret the police power for zoning purposes much more liberally than otherwise. Arguments based on 'light and air' protection, 'fire hazard' or 'traffic congestion' will be largely works of supererogation. On the other hand, if the tall building is found to be the most economical development of the central business sites of our leading cities, private owners will strenuously oppose any drastic confiscation of their property values and public opinion, the legislatures and the courts will back them up, except to the extent that a sound and reasonable exercise of the police power may require regulation in the obvious interest of public safety, health and morals. In other words, economic considerations will be the determining factor in this as in other fields of human progress."

NOW! MUFFETS Bring You the Health Vitamin of Sunshine

The first cereal to be irradiated with Ultra-Violet Rays! All Muffets at your grocer's have been irradiated. No change in taste. No increase in price. Start using Muffets today.

Nutritionists state this is the most important food discovery in years.

SUNSHINE is Nature's greatest tonic! And now a great scientist finds the way to add the health-giving vitamin of sunshine to Muffets, the whole wheat biscuit, by irradiation with Ultra-Violet Rays.

In every Muffet, though you cannot see it or taste it, is a "dash of sunshine" for your health. Nutritionists state this is the most important food discovery in years.

Serve Muffets now when days are shortening. Help the children to keep the good health they got from summer sunshine. Keep up their vitality through the colder months with Muffets... the only cereal with the "dash of sunshine". Let them have good health with good food.

"Ribbon" of Whole Wheat

Muffets... a different idea in cereals. A "ribbon" of cooked whole wheat wound round and round and baked to the crispness of toast. Eaten with cream and sugar, with berries or fruit added, or just buttered... Um-m-m-m! What a meal! And Muffets are healthful in a way no other whole wheat cereal in the world can claim to be. By irradiation with Ultra-Violet Rays... the discovery of Prof. Steenbock of the University of Wisconsin... this new cereal now contains and passes on to you the healthful Vitamin "D" of sunshine.

Vitamin "D", the "sunshine vitamin", enables the body to make full use of the lime in foods. Teeth and bones are built of lime. Physicians and dentists say that every one must have ample Vitamin "D", if teeth are to be sound and hard—bones straight and strong.

All Need "Sun" Vitamin

Everybody, young or old, benefits greatly from an ample supply of the "sun vitamin". In the fall and winter, heavier clothing, indoor occupations and lesser sunlight bring danger of "sunshine starvation". So, here's your chance to get a "dash of sunlight" at every meal.

Eat irradiated Muffets for your own health. Serve them to your children. They are simply a delightful, wholesome whole wheat food, made more healthful by the "sunshine" treatment. They will help the whole family to keep summer health and vigor all year round.

All grocers have irradiated Muffets. There is no increase in price.

Health... good spirits... in young and old are linked with an abundance of the "sun vitamin".

Adding the "Dash of Sunshine"

The healthful Vitamin "D" is added to Muffets by passing this whole wheat cereal under the rays of Ultra-Violet lamps. Every Muffet is thus "irradiated" and retains the effect of the irradiation indefinitely. Muffets, therefore, bring to you an important ration of the precious "sun vitamin."

BRIDE'S SANITY IS CHALLENGED

Calgary Man to Appeal Annulment Suit to Supreme Court

Edmonton, Oct. 2.—(By Canadian Press)—Is a woman who takes an unusual time to dress and acts hysterical on her wedding day insane? This is a question upon which decision will be sought before the Supreme Court of Canada, at Ottawa, shortly.

Tony Chertkow of Calgary is seeking annulment of his marriage, and in his action before Alberta courts sought to show that Mrs. Chertkow, whom he married in 1926, was insane on her wedding day. Her actions on the day of marriage, it was claimed, were those of a woman suffering from insanity. Among these was the fact that she was greatly excited, that she said she did not want to be married, that she took an unusual time to dress and was more or less in a hysterical state of mind.

In 1926 Mrs. Chertkow was adjudged insane, and in February, 1929, the husband commenced his action to have the marriage declared invalid. Before Mr. Justice Ives, in civil court, he was successful, the marriage being declared invalid, but on appeal by the Attorney-General's Department the Appellate Division Court reversed the judgment. Now Chertkow is appealing to the Supreme Court at Ottawa.

Ladies' Choir—The Victoria Ladies' Choir will hold its first meeting of the year in Temple Hall on North Park Street this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. All members are asked to attend as plans will be made for the coming season's activities.

ARTS AND CRAFTS EXHIBITION SOON

Annual Showing to Be Held in Belmont Building October 22 to 31

The Island Arts and Crafts Society will hold its annual exhibition of original work in the Belmont Building, from Tuesday, October 22, to Thursday, October 31. The exhibition will include paintings, drawings, design, architectural and otherwise, and crafts, and it is expected that the number of entries will be even larger than in previous years.

All exhibits have to be sent in on Tuesday, October 15, to the Belmont Building. J. S. McMillan, secretary, 201 Union Building, will gladly furnish all particulars to intending exhibitors.

AGED WOMEN'S HOME FILLED

Committee Plans Book Tea and Shower For Nov. 14

A book shower and tea for the benefit of the inmates will be held at the Home for Aged and Infirm Women on November 14, according to plans made yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the committee of management. Mrs. W. L. Clay presided and the members present included Messrs. James Grant, Vincent, Leiser, Hoddie, H. Grant, Miss O'Brien and the secretary, Mrs. Whittier.

HOME IS FILLED

The secretary reported that one death had occurred, two inmates had left the home during the month, but the vacancies thus caused had been filled, leaving the home again full. The general health of the inmates was reported as fairly good.

Mrs. Clay, Mrs. Vincent and Mrs. Heddle were appointed the committee for the month, and suggestions were made for a number of improvements to be carried out by this committee, so as to add to the comfort of the aged inmates.

DONATIONS RECEIVED

Donations gratefully received were as follows: Clothing, Mrs. Burden and a friend; flowers, Victoria Floral Company, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Grant, Mr. Strawn and Mr. Hughes, Eskrine Road, Presbyterian Church; fruit and eggs, children of St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill; fish, Mrs. Shotbolt.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MERTLE MEYER ELDER

Mrs. Elder will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

DIET FOR EIGHT MONTHS' OLD BABY

Mrs. W. W. McL. writes—"I watch with such interest and have derived so much benefit from the problems discussed. I would like to know if I am feeding my eight months' old baby who weighs eighteen pounds, correctly? I give her eight ounces of the following formula, five times daily, four times in the daytime and once at night. Thirty-two ounces of milk, ten ounces of water and two tablespoons of sugar. Should it be stronger?

"She was quite sick with stomach trouble at four months and I have been wary about giving it to her as strong as most babies take a formula at this age. I give her arrowroot biscuits but she doesn't seem to care for them. She gets orange juice and drinks a lot of water. Should she be drinking from a cup?

"She stands up and tries to walk. She sleeps all night but not more than three hours at a time in the daytime. What should I feed her now besides her bottle?"

ANSWER

A baby's formula for the whole day is in relation to the age and weight, and according to that your thirty-two ounces of milk is even more milk than your baby needs. In fact, it would be better if your formula were balanced somewhat differently, for it lacks sugar, has more milk than necessary and the rest of the diet is not as good as it might be.

I suggest for the present, at least until baby weighs twenty pounds, that the formula be twenty-seven ounces of milk, five ounces of water, and one ounce of sugar. Give only four feedings during the day and none at night. In addition, the baby needs cereal twice daily, beginning with the usual one teaspoonful and increasing very slowly until at one year baby can take several tablespoonfuls at a feeding, in addition to the bottle or cup of milk.

Egg yolk can be started in small quantities, not more than one-half to one teaspoonful a day, added to a bottle formula or given in the form of soft or hard cooked yolk only. Babies react so variously to egg (white is not given yet) that one must go very cautiously and if baby has a rash or hives or shows sign of disturbance the egg should be stopped.

Vegetable soup is the other requisite at this period and it is given sometimes in preference to steamed vegetables because babies like soup with vegetables cooked in it, better than the vegetables alone. Try each out and see which your baby takes best. Same rules for these, small amounts, increased gradually.

At one year baby should take a cup and not a bottle and to accomplish this cup feedings should be started early. We discuss this quite a lot in the column. So baby's diet at eight months should be: Formula at 6 in the morning, cereal and formula at 10, soup and formula at 2 and cereal and formula at 6. No night feedings. Orange juice an hour before 10 o'clock feeding and egg yolk with the 2 o'clock feeding.

MANY CASES COME TO FRIENDLY HELP

Association Thanks Dr. A. G. Price For Long Co-operation in Work

A total of seventy-nine cases, representing 251 persons, were assisted by the Friendly Help Association during the month of September, according to the reports presented at the monthly meeting yesterday, with Mrs. Cullum in the chair and fourteen members present. Assistance to these cases was given in the following forms:

Thirty-five had groceries, twenty-six had meat more than once, twenty-five had milk daily, eight had fuel and three pairs of shoes. New shoes were bought; from the rooms, forty-four had clothing, six had provisions, such as dripping, plums, apples, vegetables, buns and butter, six had sundries, such as bed, spring, mattress, bedding, stove, trunk, kettle, pans, patches and rags.

As usual, fruit, apples especially, and vegetables of all kinds will be most thankfully received and distributed from the rooms. Clothing of all kinds, men's, women's and children's, are much in demand, so will also be much appreciated.

DOCTORS THANKED

A resolution was passed unanimously expressing appreciation and sincere thanks to Dr. Price for co-operation and help, and advice given during his term of office as city health officer, and the corresponding secretary, instructed to convey the same to him. The association also extended their grateful thanks to Dr. Scott-McCormick and Dr. Stewart for medical advice and attention given to cases sent to them.

Labrador Eskimos Are Losing Ground

Sydney, N.S., Oct. 2.—Between influenza, the advance of civilization along their barren coast and intermarriage with the white people, the Labrador Eskimos are rapidly going the way of the North American Indians and other primitive races, says Commander D. B. MacMillan, whose Arctic expedition of 1929 has just returned south.

Pure-blooded Eskimos are becoming rarer and rarer in Labrador, he says. The great influenza epidemic of 1919 carried off more than half the entire Labrador tribe of Eskimos, he estimates, and it has never recovered from the blow.

"White settlers have resided in Labrador for the last 200 years," he said. "In fact, at the head of nearly every big inlet one will find such a family, descendants of men who came out in charge of fishing stations as far back as two centuries ago. Scottish and Irish families predominate in this business and in course of time their sons intermarried with the Eskimo tribes until the number of persons of mixed race is now very large and rapidly growing."

The griffins reaches a height of from eighteen to twenty feet when full grown.

MR. HERMAN GOES EAST

The business of Herman's Limited has now assumed such dimensions that Mr. J. W. Herman, the president of the concern, and general manager, is kept busy traveling. Last night he started east again on a buying trip, the second already for this fall and he anticipates at least another two before the season closes. Only by getting right on to the centres of fashion—the big cities where styles are created—where the big art stylists work, live and have their being—can one get the real first-run advance styles of authentic accuracy, says Mr. Herman, and he accounts no trouble too much if he can succeed in securing those premiere styles the patrons of Herman's demand. Mr. Herman's trip this time will take him to Toronto, Montreal, New York and Chicago. He expects to be back at the Vancouver headquarters during the third week in October.

NOTICE Change of Street Car Routes

A TEMPORARY CHANGE IN THE ROUTING OF THE GORGE, ESQUIMALT, HILLSIDE AND BURNSIDE CARS

Will Be Effective Wednesday, a.m. October 2

And Will Remain Effective Until Further Notice

NOTE THESE CHANGES

Gorge and Esquimalt Cars—Cars on these routes will ENTER the city by way of GOVERNMENT and YATES Streets, and will LEAVE the city by way of DOUGLAS and BAY Streets (a complete reversal of the usual routing).

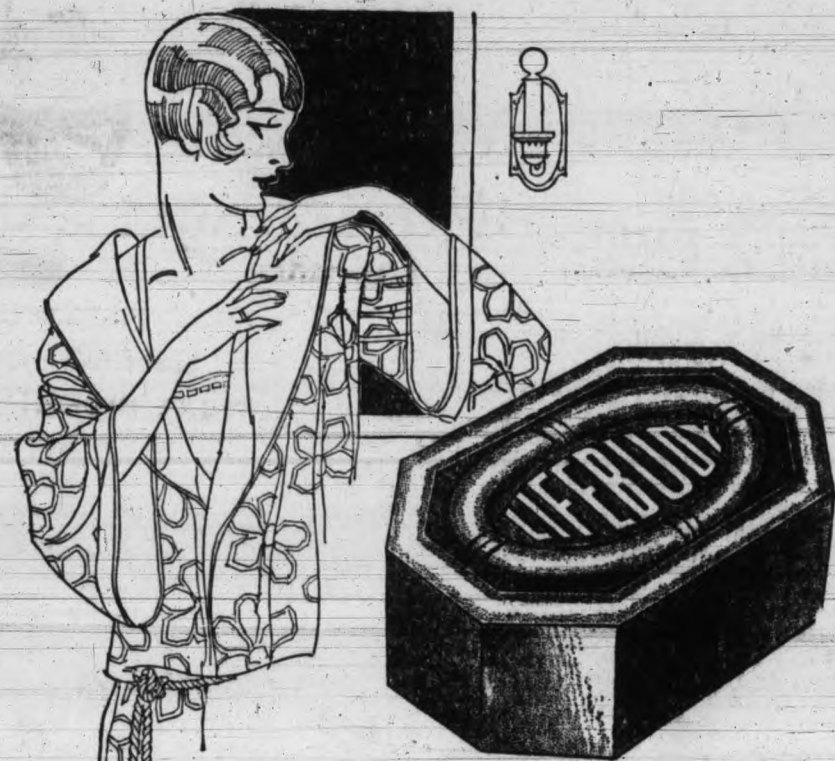

Hillside and Burnside Cars—Cars on these routes will LEAVE the city for Hillside and Burnside by way of DOUGLAS Street as a present, but will RETURN to the city by way of GOVERNMENT Street to FORT Street and proceed directly to the Mount Tolmie, Foul Bay and Joseph Street terminals.

All time schedules will remain as at present. These temporary routings are necessary in order that repaving operations may be carried out by the city on Douglas Street, between Pandora Avenue and the Hudson's Bay Building.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

CHICAGO White Sox, American League baseball team, appear to have a lot of faith in Donnie Bush, ex-manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League, as they have signed him to manage the Windy City team for the next two years, succeeding Lena Blackburne.

The White Sox had a disastrous season under Blackburne's leadership, falling to seventh place in the pennant race. Blackburne has engaged in two fist fights with Arthur Shires, the belligerent first baseman, the last one occurring two weeks ago at Philadelphia. The manager promptly suspended Shires for the second time this season.

After the Shires incident, Charles Comiskey, owner of the Sox, seeking to regain his health in the woods of northern Wisconsin, announced his determination to again pick up the leadership of the club and build it into a pennant winner. For the last three years Comiskey has not devoted his entire attention to his team because of his health. He is seventy years old. He felt the need of allowing members of his business staff to direct affairs of the club rather than assume the entire responsibility himself.

Bush comes to the Sox after resigning the management of the Pirates less than a month ago. He threw up his job after Pittsburgh began to slip in their final bid for the National League pennant. Bush, who was a star shortstop for the Detroit Tigers for fifteen years, formerly managed the Washington club of the American League, and the Indianapolis club of the American Association.

Montreal Maroons' powerful National League hockey team, will have such a raft of material that they will have to practice in sessions when they hit the ice for the first time this season. In addition to Maroon regulars, and reserves the Windsor team will do their early season training at Montreal. The two teams will practice together. Ottawa is making a strong effort to obtain Mike Neville and endeavor to buy him, but Montreal is not interested in money. They might part with the shift Windsor player provided Ottawa would let them have a player of equal ability, but the latter have no one to trade.

Hoolley Smith, the versatile centre of the Maroons, is likely to be transformed into a defence man. Smith played this role when with Ottawa, and it is expected his sweeping hookcheck would add considerable strength to the Maroons' defence.

Scouts from the Canadian-American League who have been with Ottawa, and it is expected his sweeping hookcheck would add considerable strength to the Maroons' defence.

Norval Bapte of the Madison Square Garden Ice Club has been the world's professional skating champion for twenty-five years. He is now fifty-six, but he set a half-mile record when he was sixteen, which still stands.

Golf was viewed strictly as a rich man's game until Francis Ouimet, former caddy, won the United States open championship, defeating the famous British pair, Vardon and Ray.

The average age of the four finalists in the United States amateur golf championship at Pebble Beach was thirty-six. Dr. Willing is nearly forty, Harrison Johnston is thirty-five, and thirty-three, Francis Ouimet, thirty-five, and Chandler Egan, forty-five.

Contender, the day gelding trotter who has five victories to his credit this season, with a 2:06 average for sixteen heats, was appraised at $125 when put up at auction in New York less than two years ago.

Having announced that the ball to be used in the griddle sport this season will be similar to the former, the Canadian Union heads will be surprised to discover that it will be nothing of the kind. It appears that for several years the manufacturers have shipped regulation United States footballs to this country without any one being informed about the matter. The fact came to light recently when one of the eastern clubs tried to "secure that smaller ball." The manufacturers then came forward with the explanation, and that settled the issue.

RIFLE SHOOTING

The Vancouver Island Rifle Team will leave Saturday night for Vancouver to meet the Mainland team in the annual match for the Butchart Shield. The match will be shot at Richmond Ranges 10 o'clock Sunday.

The final practice will be held Saturday, the team to shoot in the order of positions to be adopted at Richmond Ranges. The ranges will be 300, 500 and 600 yards, or what is known as the Kolascope Ranges.

The team will be as follows: Maj. J. Richardson, Maj. G. H. G. Evans, Sgt. J. H. Regan, Lieut. Fyvie, Q.M.S. A. Ashe, Capt. Tapley, Sergt. Watson, Q.M.S. Evans; spares, Sergt. Maj. McKaye, Gr. S. S. Brown, Lieut. O. Weller. Others wishing to accompany the team will please notify the team secretary, Sergt. S. Redgrave, at Work Point Barracks or 801 Union Building, View Street, not later than Friday.

Seven of the above team are Blesley men. The coach will be selected Saturday at Red's Range.

LOMSKI WINS CALL AFTER GREAT BOUT

"Aberdeen Assassin" Gets Decision Over Jack Willis in Slashing Affair

Fighters Put Up Terrific Battle After Spending Four Hours in Courtroom

Seattle, Oct. 2.—Although spending all day yesterday in a courtroom, Leo Lomski, "Aberdeen Assassin," and "Cowboy" Jack Willis of San Francisco, light-heavyweights, fought a terrific six-round battle here last night with Lomski winning the decision.

Both Lomski and Willis were named as two of the principals in the boxing case, State vs. Austin and Bishop Athletic Club, and were forced to go through a weary day of court proceedings. The prosecutor's office had sought to stop the scheduled bout, but lost out when Justice William Hoar dismissed the case four hours before the battle was to take place. The defendants obtained a Superior Court injunction at the last minute restraining county or city officials from interfering with the bout and the affair went off smoothly.

The state had attempted to show that the bout was being held in violation of the state law, but Justice Hoar ruled that a club is permitted to hold "sparring matches" for club members only and that the Austin and Bishop organization was endeavoring to operate under the statutes. The club has issued approximately 7,000 memberships. The dues are twenty-five cents a year.

SLASHING BATTLE
The Lomski-Willis bout was a slashing battle with the Aberdeen slugger winning the second and sixth rounds. Willis hit Lomski with several smashing rights but took severe punishment from the "assassin" in the other rounds.

In the semi-final bout Tony Talerico of Walla Walla gained a technical knockout over Gene Gaudette of Yakima. Gaudette was virtually out on his feet when the referee stopped the battle in the fourth round.

They are, heavyweights.

LAWN BOWLING

The Victoria Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club closes the bowling season on Saturday afternoon with the presentation of prizes and a tea. Tea was served to the members of both the ladies' and gentlemen's clubs.

The honorary president, Mrs. W. H. Cullin awarded prizes to the following for the respective contests:
Blundell Singles: 1. Mrs. J. P. Owens; 2. Mrs. A. E. McKeachie.

Club Doubles: Mrs. J. Morton and Mrs. A. E. McKeachie (skip).
Cullin Doubles: Mrs. W. Armstrong and Mrs. J. P. Owens (skip).

Two of the Victoria Club ladies, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Simmons, were successful in winning second prize in the doubles contest during the Capital City Lawn Bowling Tournament last August.

Annual Par-Contest To Precede Yearly Parley at Oak Bay

Following the yearly par competition for the twelve winners of the Victoria Golf Club's women's monthly medal competitions, on October 25, the players will adjourn to the clubhouse for their annual meeting.

The gathering will be called together at 5 o'clock. Officers for the year will be elected and other business will be transacted.

Nomination lists for the different offices are now posted at the clubhouse.

Rogers Hornsby and Jimmy Fox Stand Out in Spotlight As Star Performers

Cubs Lead National League in Double Plays; Good Reserve Strength Seen

By BROWN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Oct. 2.—Discussion of the infields to match strength in the world's series throws the spotlight on two opposing players. Standing out in bold relief are Rogers Hornsby of the Cubs and Fox of the Athletics.

One is at the height of a great career and the other standing on the threshold. Hornsby is the Cubs' leading batter and an inspirational player with few equals. Fox led the American League in hitting for most of the season's play at one position. Fox is regarded as a better batsman than Grimm, who will play first base for the Cubs in the series after a six-week absence from the game on account of injuries, but the Cub veteran is the better fielder. Fox has many things to learn about the fine arts of first base play. Grimm will have the distinction of being the only left-handed baseman in the Cup line-up.

Hornsby should outwit Bishop, the Athletics' second sacker, more than 100 points on the basis of their season's work, but here the fielding advantages will rest with the American League. Hornsby is an adequate defensive baseman, but Bishop at times is an extraordinary performer.

Moving to shortstop, the Cubs will have the better of the argument, if the season's offensive figures are to be relied on. Their fielding seems about on a par, but English is a much better hitter than Boley. Dykes, at third, may be a better shortstop than third baseman, but does well enough at the position he will occupy in the series. Norman McMillan, the Cubs' third baseman, probably will play a sound fielding game, but he cannot be figured to hit with the power of Dykes.

In the Cub infield, Hornsby and Grimm are 300 hitters and English has batted a .280 clip. McMillan has been around 270. The Athletics have 200 hitters in Fox and Dykes, but Bishop and Boley have not been above .250, so the batting percentage will be slightly in favor of the Cubs.

The Athletics have made fewer double plays than any other club in the American League and the Cubs lead the National League in the number of double plays. But, nevertheless, there seems little to choose between the two defensive combinations.

Good reserve strength is found on both benches. Philadelphia has Hale for third base emergency, Cronin for first, Eddie Collins for second, although it is not certain that he will leave the coaching line for active service, and Burns for first.

The Cubs can toss Tolson in to relieve Grimm if the first baseman falters; Blair, a hard hitter, can play any one of the four infield positions, although he is not certain that he will leave the coaching line for active service, and Burns for first.

Registering a gross score of 103 for the thirty-six holes, Harry Benson Jr., of the Colwood Golf and Country Club, won the greenkeepers' golf championship at the Macaulay Point Golf Club yesterday.

By his victory Benson gained possession of the gold medal presented by Charles F. Todd, president of the Victoria Golf Club.

Clifford E. Clark, of the Uplands Golf Club, was the winner of the handicap-championship and wins the trophy donated by J. A. Boyd, president of the Colwood Golf Club.

Clark's net score was 153, two strokes ahead of Johnny Unwin, also of Uplands.

PRIZES PRESENTED

Following the tournament the players adjourned to the clubhouse where the prizes were presented by James Wood, Frank Ingram, Captain of the Oak Bay team was presented with the Interclub Shield, while C. P. Tostevin and J. Riddell won the special prizes presented by Walter Gravlin, Uplands pro, and Alex Marling, Colwood pro.

Last night the greenkeepers brought a most successful day to a close at a banquet at the Douglas Hotel. Hill Thompson, president of the association, presided. After an enjoyable evening a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the Macaulay Point Golf Club and Major Sisman, Freddy Burns and Mrs. Wilson.

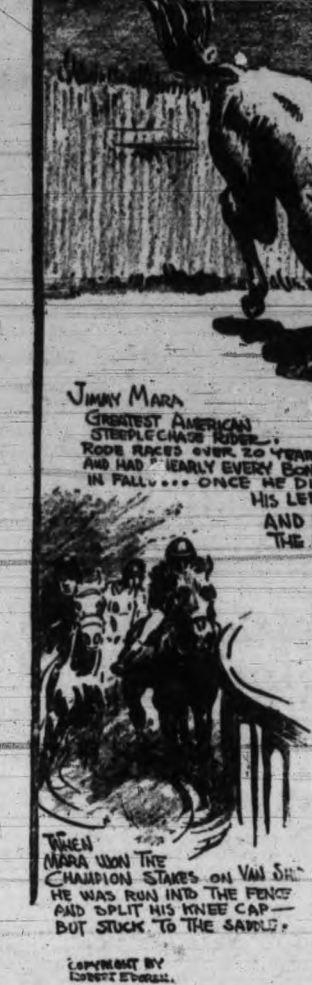

Among those who assisted in the musical entertainment during the evening were: Dave Crawford, Mr. Hayhurst, proprietor of the Douglas Hotel, Fred Cockerton, T. Barden and Jimmy Bennett. Yesterday's scores follow:

Clifford Clark Is Handicap Champion; Banquet Winds Up Successful Day

New York, Oct. 2.—Back from Europe where he spent his first vacation in a quarter century, Tyrus Raymond Cobb immediately jumped into world's series discussion with a prediction that the Athletics would beat the Cubs. Superior pitching and the experience contained in Connie Mack's head will win the series for the A's, the erstwhile "Georgia Peach" believes.

"The Cubs have no one to stop Fox, Simmons and Miller," said Cobb. "If Chicago doesn't like speed, as I understand they don't, Grove can be called upon at any time in a short series."

H. PLIMLEY NEW PRESIDENT

Elected Head of Garage Hockey League at Annual Meeting Last Night

Horace Plimley was elected president of the Garage Hockey League at the annual meeting held last night at the headquarters of Thomas Plimley Limited.

Mr. S. Duke was nominated as vice-president, while Glenn Smith was the selection for secretary-treasurer.

Prospects for the season were discussed and the league is looking forward to a banner year. Four teams, including Douglas, Ford, Buicks and Whippets will compete this season. The Whippets will defend the title they won last season.

The next meeting of the league will be held on October 22 when a tentative schedule will be drawn up.

THE HOME RUN PARADE

With all but two of the major league teams idle yesterday, Hornsby was the only member of the "Big Six" in action. The Rajah combed Red Lucas for three singles in four attempts at Cincinnati, lifting his average three points to .290. He still has a chance to finish second in the race for the batting championship of the National League, and "Big Six."

Ford, Oct. 2.—Benny Hill, San Francisco, was no match for Fred Lenhart, of Spokane, in the scheduled ten-round main event of the boxing card last night, and the bout was stopped in the fourth round. Hill was floored twice in the first round and once in the fourth. They are light heavyweights.

Kathleen Fraser Wins at Colwood

Miss Kathleen Fraser won on the final of the Campbell Trophy, match play on handicap competition, at the Colwood Golf Club yesterday, when she defeated Mrs. E. Watson, 2 up. Following the match President J. A. Boyd presented the prizes to the victor and runner-up.

Record Number Of Entries Promises Keen Competition

By Robert Edgren

Hundreds of young swimmers from Victoria, Saanich, Esquimalt, Oak Bay, Deep Cove and Ladysmith will converge in the Crystal Garden on Friday and Saturday evenings to battle for supremacy in the school sphere of the aquatic world. This year the number competing shows a great increase, and performances of much higher standard than in previous galas is expected. The first events will start at 7.30 each night.

Scores of entries have been received for the different events, many schools sending in several for the same races in order to give their best talent an opportunity of qualifying for the finals on Saturday evening.

Particularly keen competition is promised for the Canadian Legion, Britannia Branch, Cup. This trophy has been offered for the 200-yard relay race for boys under fifteen.

Complementary to this is the 200-yard relay for girls of the same age, who will represent their different schools in the contest for the Pandey Cup.

Races for students of ages from under twelve to eighteen years have been arranged and have received splendid support from the schools.

With only two days left before the trials, the youngsters are in fine shape and should furnish plenty of thrills for the large crowd of spectators which is expected to assemble.

Although but few have entered the diving contests, the young springboard swimmers who will compete are of high calibre and should give fine exhibitions.

HORNSBY IN OUTBURST OF BATTING

Rogers Collects Three Out of Four to Creep Up in National Averages

Cubs Tossed For Defeat By Reds; Many Teams in Double-headers To-day

With a cold rain along the Atlantic seaboard preventing the few eastern games scheduled in the major leagues yesterday, baseball action was confined to Cincinnati where the Cincinnati Reds nipped the champion Chicago Cubs 3-2.

The game furnished Rogers Hornsby an opportunity to collect three singles in four times at bat, lifting his batting average three points to .380.

SEVEN STRAIGHT HITS

This outburst carried him to seven straight hits against the Cincinnati pitching corps before the Reds stopped him in the eighth inning. The Reds won the game by 1-0 with Hornsby's home run. He still has a fine chance to oust Babe Herman of Brooklyn from second place in the National League batting derby, but only a phenomenal spurt could carry him past Frank O'Doul, the heir apparent to Hornsby's throne, with a lead of .385. Herman is hitting .374. Chicago outlived Cincinnati by seven safe drives to six, but Lucas scattered the Bruin attack in every inning but the second in which he was in a position to win when his mates touched Guy Bush for three runs in the eighth. Lucas himself led this assault with a single. Swanson followed with another one-bagger and a little Hughie Critz cleaned up with a triple. Critz scored the winning run after a moment later when Charlie Grimm threw past the plate after fielding Walker's roller.

NINETEEN FOR LUCAS

The Cubs got to Lucas for two runs in the second on a triple by Cuyler, singles by Stephenson and McMillan and Ford's error. It was Lucas's nineteenth victory of the season in a double-header against Washington. The New York Giants likewise will attempt to run off their final Brooklyn game at the Polo Grounds. The A's have two more open dates on which they could dispose of their double bill, but this is the last chance the Giants have to get in their twenty-second contest against the Robins.

The Philadelphia Athletics will make another attempt to-day to close out their home season in a double-header against Washington. The New York Giants likewise will attempt to run off their final Brooklyn game at the Polo Grounds. The A's have two more open dates on which they could dispose of their double bill, but this is the last chance the Giants have to get in their twenty-second contest against the Robins.

COAST LEAGUE

Los Angeles, Oct. 2.—Leroy Mahaffey, Portland moundman, knocked at the door of Coast baseball fame yesterday, holding Hollywood to one hit in a 3-0 victory. For the Ducks, opener of the final series with Stars. Weitzel, who the Ducks found for eight hits, spoiled Mahaffey's chance for a no-hit no-run game with a single in the third.

Portland ..... 3 0 0
Hollywood ..... 0 1 1
Batteries—Mahaffey and Woodall; Weitzel and Essler.

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—While Phillete was holding the Seattle Indians to six hits yesterday, his Mission teammates clubbed three opposing hurlers for fourteen safeties in a 12-2 win. The Missions sailed along quietly with a three-run lead until the sixth, when they pounded Kallio out of the box with a rally that netted nine runs.

Oakland, Oct. 2.—Scoring a run in their half of the ninth, Oakland nipped Los Angeles 4-3 yesterday. The Oaks picked Horne for a run in the first frame, and two more in the fourth, but the Angels tied the count in the seventh, after Daglia had blazed them for the preceding innings. Until the seventh, the visitors were held to one hit by Daglia.

Sports Through Edgren's Eyes

By ROBERT EDGREN

The young golf stars took a beating in the U.S. Amateur championship at Pebble Beach. They were all gone when the semi-finals came along. Then there were left only thirty-six-year old Francis Ouimet, veteran who was champion fifteen years ago; Egan, who was amateur champion twenty-five years ago, and still plays fine golf at forty-five; Willing, who has won many western titles and is now near forty, and Johnston, the new champion, over thirty.

Of the youngsters who played great golf early in the tournament, William Lawson Little, nineteen-year-old San Francisco boy, looks like one who will go farther next year. A dangerous competitor, this boy for he fights all the way, never gives up. He is best when he is nearly holed. Francis Ouimet had a bit of luck putting Little out of the tournament after Little had eliminated Goodman, who put Bobby Jones out. The Little-Ouimet match was very even all the way to the seventeenth green. There both hooked into the hills and traps to the left of the green and halved the hole, going to the eighteenth with Ouimet one up.

Here Ouimet sliced his drive into a shallow trap. Little hit a long straight one from the tee. Ouimet got a fine recovery with fair distance. Here Little stepped up to his ball and looked down the narrow neck of a fairway to the green that no one had reached in two shots in all the tournament. Taking one brisk practice swing he stepped up to the ball and cracked out a brassy of fully 300 yards straight down the middle. The slightest hook would have sent that long one into the sea, for the green is on the edge of the cliff. The slightest slice would have sent it among the trees that caught Bobby Jones's last brassie when he was trying desperately to even the score with Goodman.

A FIGHTING FINISH

Ouimet pitched to the green, but about ten feet short. Little, after calmly walking up to the cup to judge the conditions, went back and pitched his approach dead for a birdie 4. And then Ouimet won the match by sinking his long putt. If it isn't all impossible that he might have come through to the final just by virtue of youth and endurance and tireless legs. Like Bobby Jones, this boy was brought up on the edge of a golf course. His father is a colonel in the army, and Little lives very near the golf course at the Presidio.

Goodman, too, is likely to be a close contender in another year. He is hardly Little's equal as a shot maker, but is of the same even temperament and dogged pertinacity in action.

Don Moe of Oregon is another brilliant youngster who may have needed only this test to temper him for championship winning. He has picked off state championships and the north-western championship, and this should make him as steady as any of the veterans. After all, it was only in steadiness and experience that Johnston and Willing had any advantage over the youngsters.

A MATTER OF CONDITION

Bobby Jones is still one of the greatest athletes in point of performance, the world has seen. He has won more big titles in golf than any other man living. He will go on winning.

After looking them over for a week I have a notion that the season's champions don't always play up to their form, and are occasionally trimmed by younger and less skillful players. The youngsters have condition. The champions have been banqueting, dined and entertained too much to be in first class condition, even after a week of practice rounds.

Bobby Jones, for instance, showed nerve strain by smoking cigarettes one after another after Goodman jumped three holes into the lead at the beginning of the match. Jones probably thought smoking would soothe his nerves. Smoking, as every athlete knows, does anything but that. It makes the nerves ragged under the strain of competition. Possibly Jones lost his championship because of a few cigarettes, added, no doubt, by too much entertainment. Goodman controlled his nervousness without trying to dull his nerves with cigarettes, and he outlasted Jones and won. None of the younger players smoked during the matches. None of them looked a settling the point in golf.

WHEN BALL HITS TRUCK

If a ball lodge in anything moving such as a truck or cart, a ball shall be dropped.

However, if a ball in motion be stopped or deflected by any agency outside the match or by a forecaddie the ball shall be played from the spot where it lies.

Rugby Twins

—By Jimmy Thompson

Next Saturday will see the official opening of the Eastern Canada rugby season and will give the fans their first chance of seeing who's who on the gridiron this year. The Hamilton Tigers, national champions, look good on paper but what they may be on the field is another story. At present they look so good that there seems to be little chance for the remaining Ontario teams and the Montrealers are the only ones who think they can take the Tigers into camp.

Dr. Harry Hobbs of Balmy Beach, former Dominion titleholder, seems to be in for an interesting time as Dave Harding of the Camp Borden aggregation is placing practically a new team in the running and they may turn out to be real heart-busters. In the intercollegiate there are rumors that the McGill squad is stronger than last year and Harry Batstone isn't fooling away his time at Kingston. There isn't much of a line on University of Toronto. University of Western Ontario, as newcomers to the big series, should prove interesting.

Intimate Sketches of World Series Stars

JIMMY DYKES

Jimmy Dykes, the jack of all trades of the Athletics, is a most important cog in Connie Mack's machine, although you seldom see his name in the headlines.

Dykes has played but little during the last two months of the season due to a strained tendon. In baseball parlance it is known as "Charleyhorse." Every effort is being made to get him in shape for the series. He is a far more valuable man at third base than Sammy Hale. Dykes is the fighter, Hale the pacifist. With Dykes in the lineup, the Athletics are far peppier. He has a voice that carries all over the field, keeps up a constant chatter and means everything to the rest of the club in a variety of ways. He is a tough team to beat.

Dykes has played every position on the Philadelphia club except pitcher, at which he hopes to do both before he passes out of the majors. Likes to play third base best. Will be at that position in the series if his leg has mended. Is also a great golfer, usually shoots in the seventies.

Norman McMillan, who is favored to play third for the Cubs, has had an unique career in baseball. Just an ordinary player, he has been fortunate to get into two world series. Broke in with the New York Yankees and shared in a series with that club. Got into one game for one inning as a substitute. Also played with Boston and St. Louis of the American League. Like Mack Wilson, he took a trip to the minors and was lucky enough to come back to the big show as a Cub. Got the call over Beck at third, despite the known fielding ability of that player. Has been below the 300 mark all season, but has been carried along by the rest of the power in the Cub lineup. Hits a long ball when he connects. Is of the uncluttered type, a Bob Heusel of the Yankees. Bats right-handed and has a great arm, but is inclined to be erratic and may prove a weak spot in the Cub defense. Has hit better in the National than American, despite the fact he is in a curve ball league and curves are his admitted weakness.

This doesn't apply to Dr. Willing, who always is in condition, or to Chandler Egan, who at forty-five is as lean as a Marathon runner and can shoot close to par through at least three days of play.

Pat Malone and Earnshaw May Be In Iron Man Act

Schedule So Arranged for Baseball Classic That Either of Two Aces of Athletics and Cubs May Twirl Four Games; "Big Three" of Both Teams Possess Tremendous Speed; Will Be Heavy Blow to Athletics if Grove Fails to Regain His Old Form; Large Number of Relief Twirlers.

(By ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 2.—The world's series battlefield of 1929 is perfectly arranged for an iron man pitching performance with George Earnshaw of the Athletics or Pat Malone of the Cubs.

The schedule for the series is so arranged that it would be altogether possible for Malone or Earnshaw, assuming they are the first game's selections, to twirl four games, still having three days of rest between each assignment. This, of course, would hinge on the series going the limit of seven games. Two days of traveling and the Sunday of rest in Philadelphia give the pitchers more than the usual amount of time to recuperate.

The one certain thing so far as the pitching is concerned is that it will be a fast ball series. The "big three" of the A's, Earnshaw, Grove and Mube Walberg, all have tremendous speed. So have the main Cub trio—Malone, Guy Bush and Charley Root.

GROVE OFF FORM

Otherwise the vital factor of mound work, considered sixty per cent of any world's series battle, is largely speculative. When he is "right" there is no better pitcher in either league than Grove, but the portstar has been off form since July. The Red Sox pounded him all over the park in his last appearance. It will be an especially heavy blow to the A's if Grove does not regain form for the series. He is the ace of the staff and Mackian chances of victory are generally considered to depend on whether he is "right."

Guy Bush was the Cub ace until around the middle of August but he hasn't lasted a full game since then until yesterday when he dropped a close decision to the Cincinnati Reds. Walberg has been erratic; so has Root, although the latter pitched a 1-0 shut-out this week.

Any one of several lesser lights in the pitching casts may come through if the stars fade. The A's have old Jack Quinn and his splitter to rely on. Jack was pitching when Walter Johnson and Grover Alexander were rookies but he still has enough stuff to join those

$40,000 ROBBERY IN MICHIGAN

Cadillac, Mich., Oct. 2.—Five robbers late yesterday held up the People's Saving Bank here and escaped with a sum of money estimated by Alfred Chapman, cashier of the bank, at between $40,000 and $50,000, together with some securities.

The robbers entered just before closing time and forced half a dozen or more patrons to lie face down on the floor while they ransacked the tellers' cages, vaults and bank offices.

CITY OUTLINES SEAPLANE BASE PROPOSALS HERE

Advice of Dominion Air Officers Was Followed in Choice of Site

Plans Prepared on Specifications By Jericho Beach Officials

An explanation of the city's position in regard to provision for a public seaplane base here was set out at a joint meeting of the industrial committee of the City Council and the port development committee of the Chamber of Commerce, held yesterday afternoon at the City Hall.

On behalf of the Chamber of Commerce committee it was stated that the establishment of a seaplane base in the Inner Harbor might mean the creation of unguarded risk of collision between steamship and air traffic using the same waters. Steamer traffic in the harbor was growing, and the risk of misadventure would increase rather than lessen, it was represented.

The city's position was stated by Alderman W. T. Strath, chairman of the industrial committee. Mr. Strath pointed out that the subject had been broached in 1923 by Mayor J. C. Fenwick and the council of that year. The 1928 council had been advised by Flight Comdr. A. E. Hull, then in charge of the Dominion Air Station at Jericho Beach, that after a survey of all available sites in the city, that the location at Dallas and Erie Streets was the only one for which approval could be given, he said.

ONLY SUITABLE SITE

This advice was passed on to the industrial committee of this year, and, to make sure of the ground, the committee secured the advice of Squadron Leader J. L. McLeod, present commander of the Dominion Air Station at Jericho Beach, as another opinion. Squadron Leader McLeod made an independent survey of the city, and arrived at same conclusion as his predecessor, that the Erie and Dallas site was the only one possible under the circumstances, continued Mr. Strath.

Told of the objections raised by the port development committee of the Chamber of Commerce while in the city yesterday, the Dominion air officer had again reaffirmed his view that that was the only place, other for which he could give his approval, said Mr. Strath.

Soon after the matter was broached this year, lumbermen had objected to the site suggested, on the ground that it would demand the removal of log booms on the south side of the harbor. This difference had been settled when the harbor master, Capt. George Kirkendall, had agreed to the removal of the log booms, at the city's request, continued the chairman.

"As far as the city is concerned, it was a case of accepting the advice of the Dominion air officers, or of doing without a seaplane base in the city," concluded Mr. Strath.

OBJECTIONS LATE

Mayor Herbert Anscomb said he regretted the fact that any objections by the Chamber committee had not come sooner. The matter of a public seaplane base had been before the city and public for eight months, and plans drawn up by the city engineer on specifications of the Jericho Beach officers were already approved, and had been sent to Ottawa for ratification by the Civil Aviation Branch. In all probability the plans were now on their way back to Victoria with the necessary sanction, he believed.

Major R. H. B. Ker, chairman of the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, suggested that a further meeting of the joint committees of the city and Chamber of Commerce at which Squadron Leader McLeod would be invited to be present might serve to clear up any points remaining to be settled. This course found the support of the meeting, and a meeting was arranged for Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to take place at the City Hall.

Present at the gathering yesterday were: Mayor Herbert Anscomb, Aldermen W. T. Strath, chairman, E. S. Woodward and William Cullin, for the city; Capt. J. W. Troup, Capt. C. D. Neureux, Lincoln Smith, J. H. Beatty, R. H. B. Ker, Duncan McLeod, Capt. Edward Kelly, and George I. Warren for the Chamber and shipping interests.

Councillor Alexander Lockley attended as a representative of Esquimalt. The plans which have been forwarded by the city to Ottawa include drawings for a barge, ramp and float, with provision for fueling and repairs, and accommodation for the customs examination of air passengers, etc. The plans were prepared to meet stated requirements from Jericho Beach, it was said.

SPEAKERS ARE TIMED BY GUN

Amusing Incident at Duke of York's Camp Told By Sir Charles Wakefield

An amusing story comes from England as told by Sir Charles Wakefield, Bart., known as the "British Empire's Patron Saint of Flying." Sir Charles visited the Duke of York's camp, and along with other celebrities was requested to speak. The boys, however, imposed a two-minute limit. To insure the correct timing of the speeches, a master from the "shoot down" all who had not finished when Sir Charles was called upon to speak first, and having considerable experience, quickly said all that was necessary and sat down. On inquiring from the "man with the gun," he was told that he had spoken only forty seconds. Several of England's most important men, however, were wilfully "shot down."

PLANT DISEASES ARE OUTLINED

Horticulturists Hear Address By Dr. William Newton; Prizes Won

The Victoria Horticultural Society held its regular monthly meeting at the City Hall last evening, with Fred Landsberg presiding. This meeting inaugurated the society's winter programme, being the first gathering under its newly-elected officers and directorate.

Work undertaken by Dr. William Newton, Dominion pathologist, who has recently been appointed to the Experimental Station at Stanichon, was explained to the members by Dr. Newton, who took as his topic "Some Phases of Plant Disease."

Of particular interest to local horticulturists and commercial bulb growers was a description of the disease relative to bulbs. Protective measures were outlined by Dr. Newton, from which he said great benefits should be derived. The work of the pathologist as revealed by the speaker was extremely interesting, and the co-operation of the members of the society was sought in the further development of plant disease control.

"Instead of adopting the name of a horticultural society," said the speaker, "why don't you call yourselves a pathological society?"

Dr. Newton entered the fascinating realm of botanical research, speaking of the effect of plant development upon the human race and its consequent reaction upon the social and moral life of to-day.

Mr. Landsberg announced that a social evening at which the prizes won in the home garden competition promoted by the society would be distributed was being arranged, with an excellent musical programme. He also expressed his pleasure at seeing a large number of visitors present.

Winners in the competition last evening were:
Floral section: I. R. W. Paton (chrysanthemums); 2. Angus McKay (chrysanthemums).

Vegetable: 1. A. M. Scott; 2. W. J. Edwards.
Of particular interest to many was a luscious plate of strawberries grown and displayed by the president.

H. Whitlock was thanked for his gorgeous display of perennials, which were greatly admired.

Germs imprisoned on teeth cause decay

A dangerous FILM coats teeth—breeds the bacteria of decay and gum disorders

GERMS cause tooth decay. Germs plus tartar are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Virtually every common disease of teeth and gums results from germ infections.

There is but one way known to fight germs and safeguard teeth and gums. You must remove a slippery, stubborn film that glues bacteria to the tooth's enamel. Film forms in crevices and clings so tenaciously that ordinary brushing fails to remove it successfully.

Today dentists are urging patients to turn from other ways to the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent. You will notice the difference from ordinary tooth paste the instant it touches your teeth. No pumice, no harmful grit or crude abrasive, but a scientific action that recommends it for the most sensitive teeth and gums.

... And no other way can make teeth so dazzling white. Write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 191 George St., Toronto 2, Ont., Can.

LETITIA PARTY WILL TRAVEL AND LEARN ON CRUISE

University World Cruise of Anchor-Donaldson Line Attracting Attention

One of the most unique travel cruises ever conceived is announced by the Anchor-Donaldson Line in the forthcoming university cruise of the liner Letitia.

The splendid new liner Letitia will be a ship of learning and for a period of four months will be floating home of a select party of college professors and students intent upon study under the most pleasurable conditions.

UNIVERSITY COURSES
All the principal and most interesting countries of the world will be included in this remarkable cruise. The university courses will be given on board ship by fully qualified professors and lectures will be given on the various countries as they are visited by the school ship.

Every opportunity will be given for learning and recreation and students of universities or colleges will be given the usual credits on returning to their studies ashore next April.

It is estimated that fully three hundred students and professors will make the world cruise by the Letitia, according to C. A. Whitlock, British Columbia agent for the Anchor-Donaldson
Line, who is at the Empress Hotel to-day on one of his periodical trips from Vancouver.

Another pleasing feature of the world cruise is the opportunity extended to parents of students and others to make the tour.

INTEREST IN COAST
Mr. Whitlock has just returned to the coast after an extended visit to New York and other points in the east. He finds that easterners are tremendously interested in the Pacific coast and is of the opinion that next season's travel westward will show increased volume.

Inquiries are brisk in connection with Christmas sailings from Atlantic coast ports in Europe. Mr. Whitlock says he plans to be here for a couple of days on business.

APPLE MOVEMENT
The apple movement to Great Britain from the Okanagan Valley has commenced and shipments will be heavy, although the crop in the valley this year is slightly less than the average, according to Mr. Whitlock.

Around the Docks

King Brothers, local shipping agents, have not yet been advised what ship is bringing 500 tons of Argentine corn for the grain elevator here at Ogden Point. The ship is expected direct from South America on Saturday.

On her last trip to Victoria and Vancouver from the Orient before returning to service on the Atlantic, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France will sail from Yokohama tomorrow for this port. She will dock here on Saturday, October 12 and five days later will sail for England by way of the Panama Canal.

With thirty tons of general cargo from San Pedro and San Francisco the Canadian National freighter Canadian Observer docked at the Ogden Point piers this morning at 7 o'clock. She sailed for Vancouver two hours later.

On her last trip, until November, the coast steamer Princess Maquina is expected in port to-morrow from ports on the West Coast of Vancouver Island as far north as Port Alice.

The next Donaldson liner due here from the United Kingdom is the Gracia which the local agents expect on Sunday, October 13.

The C.P.R. freighter Princess Ena arrived in port this morning from Vancouver and other Mainland ports and will be up for the remainder of the season.

Stopping off at ports on the way down the coast, it will be sometime Friday before the Government light-house tender Estevan arrives here from Prince Rupert where she has been for the last month working on lights and buoys out of that port. Yesterday she was at Bull Harbor.

The N.Y.K. steamer Mishima Maru is now en route from Shanghai to Hongkong. She will not return here from the Orient until November 16.

The Princess Louise is expected here on Friday from an Alaska cruise to Skagway. She will make her last trip

SHIPPING FOR SEPTEMBER IS ONLY AVERAGE

Inbound Vessels During Month Total 328,970 Tons;
U.S. Registry Leads

Discontinuing of Ferry Steamers Is Responsible For Decrease Over August

Because of the discontinuation early in September of all the ferry steamers plying between Victoria and points on the mainland, the shipping figures for last month, which were issued this morning by the local branch of the Federal Department of Customs, showed a considerable decrease compared to those of August.

Inbound during the month of September there were ships with a total of 328,970 tons. These included both the numerous coast steamers, calling here daily as well as lumber boats and the regular liners from the Orient,
Australia and the United Kingdom.

There were more lumber ships in port this month than usual, which helped to run the figures up.

As usual, vessels of United States registry lead the figures. There were seventy-four ships from the United States inbound during September with a total of 141,689 tons. Canadian shipping came next on the list, there being seventy ships of Canadian registry in port inbound, representing 110,688
tons.

From Japan there were ten ships with a tonnage of 49,018, while the United Kingdom was represented by seven ships with a tonnage of 27,278.
There were two Dutch vessels in port, which swelled the total by 10,303 tons.
Together these ships totalled 328,970
tons.

Outbound from the Port of Victoria the shipping figures ran about the same, sending the total inbound and outbound up to nearly 700,000 tons.
October promises to be a heavy month as far as shipping is concerned. Besides the regular deep-sea liners a large number of tramp ships and freighters are booked to load here during the month.

Tin Deposits In Nova Scotia Investigated

St. John's, N.S., Oct. 2.—Canadian British and United States capitalists are reported to be greatly interested in the discovery of rich tin deposits at various points in an area of six square miles under lease to the Nova Scotia Tin Syndicate in the New Ross district of Lunenburg County.

Professor E. H. Davidson of the School of Mines, Cornwall, England, and honorary secretary of the Royal Geological Society of Cornwall, found the assays of samples were satisfactory after a recent investigation of the deposits. He was accompanied by Newton A. Myers, head of the Nova Scotia Tin Syndicate.

Professor Davidson reported the district is very similar from a mineralogical viewpoint, to Cornwall, where rich tin deposits have been worked for centuries. There the tin is found in granite, with copper above in the sedimentary rocks.

Before they could be absolutely certain of the possibilities of the New Ross property, said Professor Davidson, it would be necessary to sink deeper to determine if the ore bed were sufficiently large to warrant development. He was optimistic the area would become a successful tin producing field. In that event the mineral wealth of the province would be greatly increased, as Nova Scotia would possess the only extensive tin deposit on the North American Continent.

Tin is produced in the Malay States, Bolivia, Nigeria, Tasmania and Cornwall. The demand is rapidly diminishing the supply and the present price is high.

The Nova Scotia Tin Syndicate is made up of a group of Canadian and British financiers who are prepared to go ahead with the venture if further investigation warrants development.

NEW SUN MOTOR IS GIVEN TESTS

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 2.—Dr. Robert H. Goddard, head of the department of physics of Clark University and inventor of an interplanetary rocket, has invented and patented a solar motor, for which he claims a high degree of efficiency in harnessing the heat of the rays of the sun and converting it into steam power. Laboratory tests with a small motor of his design have demonstrated the soundness of the principle, it is stated. As to the practical value of the motor, Dr. Goddard claims for it wide usefulness on farms and elsewhere, particularly in the countries where sunlight is powerful and dependable.

Dr. Goddard also suggests the sun motor might be adapted for use in dirigibles, to make indefinite time they might stay in the air without refueling.

Too often nuts are served with no thought of their food value and are added to a meal already rich enough in protein and fat. Nuts are a real food of high nutritive value as well as palatability and are desirable for these reasons.

Butternuts, almonds and peanuts contain more protein than an equal amount of meat and can be used satisfactorily as meat substitutes. Chestnuts are an excellent starchy food and are appropriately served with meat either as stuffing or a vegetable.

Pecans, Brazil nuts, butternuts, filberts, coconuts, walnuts and hickory nuts are extremely rich in fat and, like any other rich food, may cause digestive disturbances if indulged in too freely.

NUT PUDDING
One-half cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons milk, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon warm water, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon butter, 1 cup cornstarch, 1/2 cup nut meats, 1/2 cup whipping cream, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla.

Add the 2 tablespoons milk to brown sugar and melt over a slow fire. Stir in soda dissolved in warm water. Add milk and butter and bring slowly to the boiling point. Stir in cornstarch stirred to a smooth paste with a little cold milk reserved from cup of milk. Stir and cook for twenty minutes. Remove from fire and add nuts. Chill and serve with cream whipped, sweetened with powdered sugar and flavored with vanilla.

NUTS MUST BE CHEWED WELL
"Pretchize" the nuts you eat and there will be little danger of indigestion. Children seldom take time to "chew them up fine," and for this reason should not be allowed to eat them.

Shelled nuts quickly absorb moisture from the air and should be kept in air-tight containers. Heating in a slow oven restores their crispness. Many an otherwise uninteresting dish is enlivened by the addition of a few nut meats. To this end it pays to have some shelled nuts always on hand for emergencies.

A nut pudding makes a suitable dessert for a vegetable luncheon or dinner.

A nut loaf served with a celery or tomato sauce is an appetizing and nourishing meat substitute and forms the main part of a meal.

ASSESSMENTS ARE NEW YORK ELECTION ISSUE

New York, Oct. 2.—Florence M. La Guardia, Republican candidate for mayor of New York, yesterday named John D. Rockefeller Jr. and August Hackscher, philanthropist, among a group who he said were favored to the extent of $75,000,000 by unfair city tax assessments.

La Guardia charged that "tax racketeering" by Tammany Hall and the administration of Mayor James J. Walker had shunted a huge tax assessment from favored wealthy land-owners to small property owners.

He named William H. Todd, Brooklyn shipbuilder and friend of former Governor Alfred E. Smith and Mayor Walker, Samuel Untermyer, chief counsel for the city in traction fare cases, the estate of Rodman W. Wadsworth, and other individuals and corporations as beneficiaries of tax "discrimination."

His statement, mentioned various pieces of property in the vicinity of Fifth Avenue, on which Rockefeller, he charged, enjoys a much lower assessment than that levied on other property in the district.

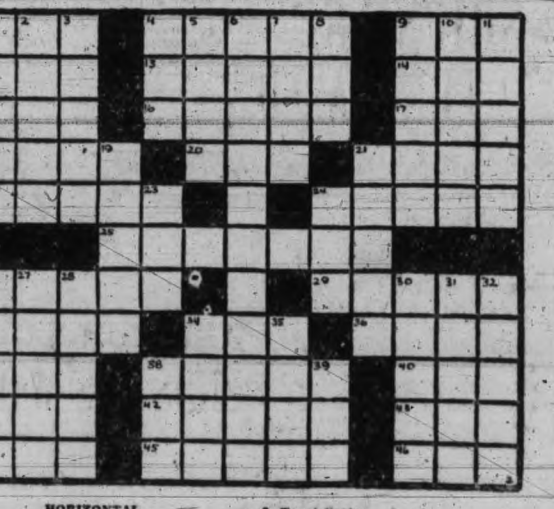

The mysterious slaying of Arnold Rothstein, Broadway gambler, who was shot to death in a hotel last November, held its place as an issue in the campaign to-day. District Attorney Joab H. Bland prepared to begin the trial of George Nicholas, former friend of the gambler, who is indicted for the murder.

Bland said he expected to have a special jury panel ready to begin trial of the case by October 5.

Nova Scotia mines," says a statement issued by Hon. G. S. Harrington, in which the Nova Scotia Minister of Mines declares there is no promise of improvement in the Nova Scotia coal trade in "the proposal" of Right Hon. J. H. Thompson to organize wheat shipments to England and return English coal in the same ships.

Mr. Harrington coupled his statement with an appeal for a national policy which would secure the Canadian market as far as possible for the coal producers of Nova Scotia and Alberta.

A. B. FALL IS IN WASHINGTON FOR BRIBERY TRIAL
Washington, Oct. 2.—Albert B. Fall, now sixty-eight years old, has returned to the city which he said nearly two years ago he might never leave again alive, to stand trial for alleged bribery in connection with the leasing of the Elk Hills, Cal., naval oil reserve.

In November, 1927, the former Secretary of the Interior sat in a Washington hotel room where he had battled grimly for more than a week against illness. He was stooped of shoulder and shrouded in a heavy bathrobe, and the paleness of his face showed how illness had sapped his vitality. His trial with Harry F. Sinclair, wealthy oil man, for conspiracy in the leasing of the Teapot Dome reserves had just ended in a mistrial, with the Government charging the jury had been tampered with.

"I would like to feel," he said, commenting on the fact the new trial had been set for the following January, "that there is more than an even chance of my ever returning home after that, but I think there is only a fifty-fifty chance."

SIXTY-EIGHT REGIMENTS ARE NAMED
Canadian Scottish to Perpetuate Five Battalions Which Went Overseas

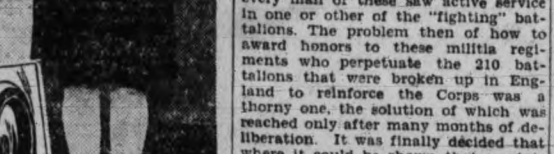

Permission Given to Place Ten Battle Honors on Regimental Colors

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 2.—Final approval has now been secured from His Majesty the King for emblazoning on the regimental colors of Canadian permanent and non-permanent active militia units the honors won by those regiments during the Great War. At present sixty-eight regiments have been given definite sanction to embroider those honors on their colors, and in due course the remainder of the militia will receive authority according to the qualifications of the regiments concerned. Thus a question that has consumed several years and involved the short of scanning the war record of almost every one of the six hundred thousand Canadians who served in the Canadian Expeditionary Force is settled once and for all. Every one of the "fighting" battalions of the Canadian Corps is now authorized to perpetuate in the non-active militia, exclusive of the three infantry regiments of the permanent force, the perpetuating unit, therefore, has been accorded the right to carry the honors won by its corresponding Canadian Corps battalion.

There were, however, 250 battalions raised for overseas and practically every man of these saw active service in one or other of the "fighting" battalions. The problem then of how to award honors to these militia regiments who perpetuate the 210 battalions that were broken up in England to reinforce the Corps was a thorny one, the solution of which was reached only after many months of deliberation. It was finally decided that where it could be shown that a minimum of 250 men from a reinforcing battalion participated in any engagement for which a battle honor was awarded, the militia regiment which perpetuates that battalion would be entitled to carry the honor on its color. Inasmuch as the men from such battalions were not infrequently distributed in small drafts among a number of Canadian Corps battalions, the necessity of closely checking the movements of practically every man—or at least every group of men—was obvious. It was also arduous and painstaking work.

B.C. HONORS
British Columbia battle honors were granted as follows:
Ten British Columbia militia regiments have been given authority to carry Battle Honors in this, the first allotment made:

A YO-YO YOE

Latest fad sweeping this continent, one known in the Philippines for generations, is the yo-yo, shown above. A yo-yo is a weighted disc-like wheel, with a string about a yard long, which is wound around its axle. To "yo," one holds the string and drops the wheel. The string unwinds and then the momentum causes it to rewind in the reverse direction, if manipulated properly, causing the wheel to climb back up to the hand. The sketch shows a close-up of a yo.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A two-story house at Sooke owned by Mrs. W. Clay of Victoria was destroyed by fire of unknown origin Sunday evening. It was unoccupied at the time.

Leon Long, Chinese, who was killed when his team of horses ran away on the Metcosh Road Saturday, came to his death accidentally, a coroner's jury decided yesterday.

A meeting of the Effective Speaking Group of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Committee Room of the City Hall at 7.45 o'clock to-morrow evening.

S. H. Grimmond was fined $15 in City Police Court this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile at too fast a rate of speed past a school.

There will be a regular meeting of Victoria Assembly No. 1 Native Sons of Canada, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. Nomination and election of officers will take place in addition to other business.

Lum Yee, Chinese, forty-six, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital last evening with a broken leg, sustained in an accident at the Yat Fien Logging Camp, Sooke, yesterday afternoon. Dr. Gordon Kenning attended the injured man.

An informal smoking concert will be held in the clubrooms of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, Victoria Unit No. 12, on Saturday at 8 p.m. A first-class programme of entertainment will be arranged.

Superannuation of J. G. Forster, for many years a member of the Victoria Police Force, took effect yesterday. Mr. Forster, who joined the force before the war, served overseas and renewed his connection with the department on his return.

Resolutions to improve the school grounds, election of officers and enrollment of members will feature the annual meeting of the Margaret Jenkins Parent-Teacher Association in the school auditorium on Friday at 7.45 p.m.

A busy calendar of trials is listed in the Supreme and County Courts for next week. Trials are set down for every day in the Supreme Court, commencing Monday, while several issues will be heard in County Court during the week. Mr. Justice Murphy will preside in the Supreme Court, and Judge Lammiman in the county cases.

An address on "The God-given Promises to Jacob," in which the speaker will stress the fulfillment in the British Empire, will be given by E. E. Richards, under the auspices of the British-Israel Federation of Canada, in the book-depot rooms, Surrey Block, Yates and Broad Streets, on Friday, at 8 p.m.

The weekly prayer meeting which meets at The Strangers' Rest, Government Street, in connection with the local branch of the Shantymen's Mission, will be held on Thursday noon from 12.15 to 1.15. Report from the Island missionaries will be read. Dr. Daly will preside. Business men are invited.

Special sermons will be delivered each evening at St. Andrew's Cathedral during the Novena by Rev. Father Collins, C.S.B. The Novena is being held until October 6, to seek the intercession of St. Teresa of the Child Jesus. The example of the saint will be studied during the series.

Former students and teachers of the Boys' Central School, along with members of the present staff, will meet in the school board office at the City Hall to-night at 8 o'clock to draw up plans for the reunion on May 24. All plans made for this event will be discussed at the gathering, to which all interested are invited.

E. Tomlin, R. Powell, D. A. Macdonald, and H. G. S. Heisterman, newly-appointed members of the Jubilee Hospital Board, were shown over the hospital this week and expressed themselves as impressed with the facilities of the institution. The fine character of the buildings and grounds and the maintenance were also commented upon.

At the close of the hearing of Foster's Garage versus Richard Turner in County Court yesterday, judgment for $36 and costs was awarded to the plaintiff by Judge Lammiman. The claim was one for payment on repairs effected to a car owned by the defendant, who appeared on his own behalf. R. D. Harvey represented the plaintiff.

FIVE FINED ON MOTOR CHARGES

Failure of purchasers and vendors of automobiles to register the sales with the superintendent of Provincial Police resulted in a number of persons being fined in City Police Court this morning. Under the Motor Act, it is necessary for both parties to such a deal to arrange a transfer of the license.

Fines of $5 each were imposed on the following: Empress Sightseeing & Taxi Co., B. E. Robertson, Edward Chan, H. A. Davis & Co., and the Checker Taxi Co., all of whom pleaded guilty.

Two similar charges against K. Henry were stood over until Friday for hearing, when he pleaded not guilty through counsel, W. A. Brethour.

War Veteran's Widow Is Dead

Mrs. Elsie Clark, widow of the late Sergeant Herbert Clark, passed away at the Jubilee Hospital yesterday. She was forty-nine years of age. Mrs. Clark was born in London, England, and had resided in Victoria for the past twenty years. Her late husband left her for overseas in the 8th Battalion, later being drafted as a bombing instructor, and in 1918 was killed in France. She is survived by two daughters and one son, all residing in this city. The funeral has been arranged to take place from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where service will be held on Friday morning at 10.30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

GOVERNMENT SHIPS ARE PURCHASED

Three Vessel of "Canadian" Type Bought By Kingsley Navigation Company

To Be Merged With Regular Service Between B.C. and California Ports

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—Announcement is made to-day that the Kingsley Navigation Company Limited has purchased the three steamers of the Canadian National Steamships Limited service to California and will merge it with the present Kingsley service, giving weekly sailings between Vancouver and California ports. The three ships are the Canadian Rover, the Canadian Observer and the Canadian Conqueror.

The vessels will remain under Canadian management. It is understood that the ships will be taken over almost immediately and the men now employed aboard will be given preference by the new owner. The purchase price was not announced.

DERATING ACT GREAT BOON TO INDUSTRY

Outstanding Relief Measure, Says Lord Hailsham, Kyoto Conference Leader

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—The Derating Act, which has just become effective in Great Britain, lowering local taxes on industries to one-quarter of their former rate, is one of the most significant developments in the economic and political situation since the Labor Government took office.

This opinion is expressed by Lord Hailsham, Lord Chancellor in the Conservative Government, who is here to-day to board the liner Empress of Asia which will take him to Japan for the Pacific Relations Conference in Kyoto, starting October 28.

The Derating Act, which came into effect in Great Britain yesterday as part of the Conservative Party's policy of being implemented by the Labor Government, will have a revolutionary effect on British industry.

"It is not too much to say the highly technical and at first little understood Derating Act is one of the outstanding relief measures enacted in Great Britain in the last decade," said the former Lord Chancellor, who had much to do with the passage of the measure through the House of Lords.

"It relieves, particularly, the iron and coal trades, though it is a great boon to all industries which have been paying heavy taxes to borough and county councils," he said. "British factories which have in the past failed to find markets for their products have had to pay these heavy taxes though their production was curbed by cutting such taxes by three-quarters of their former rate will have the widest effect on British industries generally."

"I am happy to have the honor of heading the British delegation to the Kyoto conference," said the former Lord Chancellor. "I am sure much worthwhile discussion of important questions of policy in the Far East will be heard. The matter of extra-territorial rights is certain to loom again and Great Britain and Dominion will follow the discussions with interest."

BERRY WINS LONG WAR PENSION FIGHT

A ten-year fight for a war pension has been won by A. Roger Berry, according to information secured from P. J. Sinnott, who represented him before the Federal Appeal Board. The case of Mr. Berry is familiar to veterans' organizations of Victoria where it has formed the subject of much discussion at many meetings. Mr. Berry, who was in receipt of a small pension, appealed for a larger pension for arthritis, and Mr. Sinnott reports that the appeal has been allowed and the pension will be retroactive but the exact terms are not stated.

REVISION COURT ENDS ITS WORK

Objections to Assessment of Property Lessen as Values Steadily Return

Unless unlooked for delay occurs, the annual court of revision on the city assessment roll will conclude its labors to-day. The main body of appeals were heard yesterday, and this morning the court gave audience to a few late appellants, whose cases were included by courtesy after the list had closed.

Only forty-seven appeals were presented on the regular list, that of the largest individual applicant being withdrawn at the last moment. Last year 160 appeals were heard, and in other years the number has run to over 200.

The court was composed of Mayor Herbert Anscomb, Aldermen William Marchant, John Harvey, John Worthington and William Collin. George Okell, city assessor, and A. W. Danby, assistant city assessor, acted as advisors to the tribunal.

An increase in taxable assessment from new building and other sources of over $1,700,000 lightened the work of the court this year, as property owners saw values steadily returning to their holdings.

OLD SHIPYARD CHANGES HANDS

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—The Vancouver Shipyard Limited, the established firm of shipbuilders on Coal Harbor, has been sold to a new company headed by Duncan Bell-Irving and E. T. Rogers for a reported price of $60,000. It was announced to-day.

The sale marks the retirement from Coal Harbor shipbuilding of Capt. William Watt, sea-going veteran of Vancouver's pioneers.

The plant has capacity for the construction of ships of between 400 and 500 tons and is at present building a yacht for Hon. W. C. Shelly, Minister of Finance, for a reported price of $125,000.

Since its incorporation in 1895 the old firm has turned out a fleet of more than 237 ships, in addition to having done many jobs of repair.

HON. J. H. KING COMES TO VISIT COAST OF B.C.

Nelson, B.C., Oct. 2.—After several days visiting West Kootenay in the course of which he addressed meetings in Slokan City, Trail and Nelson, Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Pensions and National Health, left Nelson last night for the coast.

Speaking in Nelson last night, Dr. King stated he hoped to be able to cover British Columbia very thoroughly this year, discussing the government's record, which he said was such that there was absolutely no demand on the part of the people for an election.

"If British Columbia did the right thing by itself and by Canada it would return more Liberals, he said, a course it would not regret."

WATERWORKS IN APPEAL

Proceedings in Which City Expropriated Esquimalt System Under Review

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—Whether Esquimalt Waterworks Company must pay income tax on $40,000 a year which it receives from the City of Victoria during expropriation proceedings in a question which has been submitted to the Court of Appeal.

The company, which is appealing, has treated the money as capital; but T. H. Leeming, Provincial Assessor, Victoria, made a finding that the fund was income. He therefore assessed the company for $55,968, because its gross income was less than its expenses, and the tax thereon was $2,879. From his assessment, the company unsuccessfully appealed to R. H. Green, judge of the court of revision, Victoria, and from his decision the company further appealed to the Court of Appeal.

On behalf of the appellant, H. A. Maclean, K.C., contends that during the period covered by the assessment, the company was in liquidation and was, therefore, deprived of all power to make or earn income, so that as a result it did not earn any income. W. B. Bullock-Webster is counsel for the assessor.

SERVICE IDEAL SHOWN TO CLUB

Ira Dilworth Gives Inspiring Address to "Y" Men's Club at Meeting

Outlining an ideal of service, such as he considered the desirable aim for the club to follow, Ira Dilworth, principal of Victoria High School, addressed the "Y" Men's Club at its supper meeting in the association's dining-room last night.

Splendid thoughts, calculated to be of great value to the new organization in arranging its activities, were dealt with by the speaker.

Throughout the address Mr. Dilworth illustrated his points with examples both in literature and actual life and impressed greatly the assembly of young men who heard him.

Colin Curtis gave a three-minute talk on the natural wealth of Canada and its relation to other countries.

Vivian Shooker opened the meeting with an original introduction and played for the community singing during the evening.

J. McPherson, president of the club, occupied the chair.

North Saanich Horticultural Society Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the North Saanich Horticultural Society will be held in Wesley Hall to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. The speaker for the evening will be Col. A. W. Woods of Gordon Head. His subject will be "Bulbs—Varieties and Cultivation."

The cups will be presented for the local garden contest by Mrs. L. E. Taylor as well as the cup for the highest number of points for the monthly competition throughout the year.

The subjects for competition for this month will be: Flowers, three dahlias; vegetables, five outdoor tomatoes.

MRS. F. J. PEATT DIED TO-DAY

Was Member of Well-known Pioneer Family of Sooke

Mrs. Annie Mary Peatt, member of a well-known pioneer family and wife of F. J. Peatt, of 869 Craigflower Road, passed away this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital, aged sixty-four years. The late Mrs. Peatt was born in Sooke, where her parents were well-known pioneer farmers, and she had resided in Victoria and district practically the whole of her life, leaving many friends who will learn with sincere regret of her passing.

She is survived by her husband, four daughters, Mrs. Stewart of Port Alberni, Mrs. J. McDiarmid of North Vancouver, Mrs. Sidney Shaw and Mrs. K. McPherson in Victoria, two sons, Gladstone and Wilbur Peatt, of Victoria; five grandchildren, and two brothers and two sisters, C. T. Muir and W. Muir, of Sooke, and Mrs. M. J. Mesher, Victoria, and Mrs. (Rev.) J. R. Robertson, of Vancouver.

The remains are resting at McCall Bros. Funeral Home, pending funeral arrangements.

The late Mrs. Peatt was a prominent member of the First United Church and an active and valued member of the Women's Missionary Society and the Women's Guild of the church.

OBITUARY

The funeral of the late Lieut. John Andrew Jess, who passed away last Friday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel, Relatives and a large gathering of friends were in attendance and many beautiful flowers testified to the esteem in which he was held. Rev. H. J. Armitage officiated and the pallbearers were F. J. Joseph, W. Muir, of Sooke, and H. Crowhurst, H. D. Ravenhill and H. Patterson, representing Toc H.

Snowden, J. B. MacLeod and J. M. Greaves representing the Pro-Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, and the Women's Auxiliary, were also present. The hymns sung were "God Moves in a Mysterious Way" and "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go." The remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park, where the bugler sounded the "Last Post."

The death occurred Sunday, at St. Joseph's Hospital, of John Sitka, aged about fifty-six, born in Austria and a resident of this city for three months. The remains are resting at the Sands Funeral Chapel and the time of the funeral will be announced later.

There passed away this morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, William John Finlay of 1740 First Street, aged sixty-six years. He was born in Sunderland, England, and had been a resident of this city for the last five years. He is survived by his widow, and daughter, Miss Florrie Finlay, at the

REAL WORK OF LABOR PARTY LIES AHEAD

Government of Britain Will Be Equal to Test, Says Ramsay MacDonald's Son

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—Britain's new Labor Government has made a good start in settlement of its foreign and domestic fiscal and political problems, but the next few months will see the critical test, in the opinion of Malcolm J. MacDonald, M.L.A. son of Ramsay MacDonald, British Premier, who is here with other British delegates, including Lord Hailsham, former Lord Chancellor, and Lady Astor's son, Hon. W. W. Astor, to join the liner Empress of Asia which will take them to Kyoto, Japan, for the Pacific Relations Conference.

"I am confident the Labor Government has shown judgment and strength in its attitude on the reparations question and the Egyptian situation," said Mr. MacDonald.

"I am sure the Government also has the confidence of the people behind it. The real work, however, and the

Now nimble and spry

Fust imagine this woman's plight. She was so fat that she couldn't get about so do her housework. Life became a burden to her—then she tried Kruschen. "I suffered with superfluous flesh and was getting a burden to myself. Now, I am glad to say, I am greatly reduced, and find no trouble in getting about my daily household duties."

Fatness is usually caused by the failure of the liver and kidneys (the "scavenging" organs of the body) to throw off the superfluous waste matter and fatty deposits which are constantly accumulating in the system. Kruschen gently persuades these organs to do their work thoroughly. All poisonous acids and waste matter are expelled from the system. Excess fat begins to disappear and, slowly but surely, you regain your normal weight.

You will find also that what you have lost in fat, you will gain in joyful health. Your eyes will sparkle, your skin will be clearer, you will be all aglow with vigor and vitality—the proud possessor of a slim, youthful figure.

Will of Late William Dunbar Is Probated in Supreme Court

Former Victoria Resident Was in Business at Hongkong

Probate has been granted in the estate of the late William Dunbar, formerly of this city, who died on June 23, 1929, leaving an estate of $729,647. The estate consisted of $263,424 in cash, $183,304 in mortgages, $140,659 in bank stock, $115,691 in other securities, and $13,029 in real estate.

The testator bequeathed one-half of the residue of his estate to his widow, Mrs. Margaret Dunbar, and one-half to his son, William Hallinan Dunbar, also of this city. James Simon Dunbar, a brother, inherited $2,000, as does Thomas Nevil Dunbar of Astoria, Ore., also a brother. Helen Maria Hughes, a sister, of Spokane, Wash., is bequeathed $500.

The late Mr. Dunbar came to Victoria from Hongkong a little over a year ago, on retirement from his business of importing in the Orient. He resided at the family home at 1602 Rockland Avenue.

STUDENTS SEE NEW CATHEDRAL

Boys and Girls of Sunday Schools Invited to Saturday Service

A large number of young people from Victoria College, Normal School and High School attended yesterday afternoon's service for students in the new cathedral. The Dean of Columbia, Very Rev. C. S. Quainton conducted the service, and gave a brief address in which he explained the meaning and purpose of cathedrals, and mentioned several distinctive features of the local cathedral. He told the young people that the church would be open daily, and hoped that it would sometimes be used by them when they felt the need of a place for retirement in quiet thought or meditation.

Those present were later conducted around the building, and shown the Canterbury stones, the robin's pillar, the stained glass windows and the baptistry. Other parts of the Gothic edifice were also explained to the young people, who seemed genuinely interested in it, and remained for some time within the nave.

CARE OF WAR GRAVES TOLD

Col. H. T. Goodland Explains Work of War Graves Commission

The "girdle of honor" around the globe formed of the graves and headstones of service men of the British Empire who died in the Great War was described by Col. H. T. Goodland, deputy controller of the Imperial War Graves Commission in France, in an address at the Chamber of Commerce last night under the auspices of the Royal Society of St. George.

Col. Goodland's story was graphically illustrated by a series of ninety lantern slides.

The total number of recorded dead in the British Empire as listed at the beginning of the present year was 1,081,982. Of this number 364,783 had been identified and buried in known graves, said the speaker. The balance were "reported missing," this being true in the sense that the names were missing, as thousands of bodies had been recovered and buried in sacred plots with headstones bearing the inscription, "An Unknown soldier of the Great War—Known Unto God."

MEMORIES HALLOWED

Thousands of sailors, troops from torpedoed vessels and hospital ships whose remains would never be found, had their memory hallowed on monuments erected all over the world, he said.

"War graves in France bore uniform headstones," he explained. "They were two feet four inches high and embedded in solid concrete. The inscription, simple but impressive, also showed the distinctive badge of the Dominion from which the soldiers came."

LARGE AREA

Col. Goodland spoke of the huge cemetery area in France. Lorries engaged by the commission in attention of the graves, covered something like 1,025,000 miles a year. In the 1,400 cemeteries there were 300 miles of flower borders and seventy-five miles of hedges, attended by 500 caretakers.

"Never before has an organized effort been made by any nation to perpetuate and maintain the graves of its soldiers who died in battle," the speaker said. The money required for this work had been found and an endowment fund created, the interest from which would be sufficient to maintain these graves forever. Only ex-service men were employed in the work of caring for the graves."

Brigadier-General J. Sutherland Brown, who presided, tendered the thanks of the audience to Col. Goodland.

Five special concerts at the Empress Hotel this season, November 14, December 11, January 23, March 26, April 11.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, Oct. 2.—Wheat: Strength in Liverpool and Buenos Ayres gave this market a better tone again to-day, and wheat prices opened about one cent higher and on the extreme bulge were 1½ to 2¼ above the close last night, with the December futures showing the most strength. Market eased off slightly in the late trade, as Chicago did not hold the full turn. Early there was fairly good buying for foreign account with some scattered purchases for seaboard, while local interests were bidding for December. There was also some short covering and moderate commission house buying. Hedging sales were fairly liberal on the early upturn, but the offerings were well absorbed. There was a moderate business worked last night for export, with grades 2, 3 and 5 being taken, but this was not reflected locally, as it was taken from stocks in the east.

Local shippers were not anxious for anything, and while offerings were very light, spreads on the four top grades were unchanged, 5 and 6 closing a half cent lower, and feed wheat two cents lower. There was no interest in the durum.

The weather continues cold in Argentina and unfavorable for crop growth, while there were reports of frost in the province of Cordoba. Local sentiment is mostly bullish with strong interest accumulating, wheat based on the expectation that Europe will shortly be forced to come into these markets for their requirements.

Coarse grains: There was a better feeling in the coarse grains and prices were firm and higher throughout. There was a full cargo of 250,000 bushels of old 3 barley sold to go out immediately to eastern millers. Direct exporters report that Germany is bidding for a fair amount of barley. There is a good Eastern Canada demand for low grade oats, with fair sales daily. Some two C.W. oats reported sold for export.

DOROTHY DIX

A YOUNG girl asks what is "IT" and how she can make herself popular. "IT" is the term that Elinor Glyn coined to express that mysterious, indescribable quality that we used to call personal magnetism. It is the something, we don't know what, that draws us irresistibly toward some particular individual.

It is the come-hither look in a woman's eye that makes every man sit up and take notice of her. It is "the way" of a man with a maiden that makes every girl get up and follow him if he whistles to her.

Perhaps the first and most important ingredient of "IT" is sex appeal, but many other things also enter into it. Vitality, for we are seldom attracted to sickly people. Good humor and good cheer, for we are repelled by the grouchy and the pessimistic and the bitter. Individuality, for we overlook those who are commonplace and dull. Being easy to look at and a dozen other attributes that go into the making of what we call charm.

Now charm, as Maggie says, in "What Every Woman Knows," is "something that you've got, or you haven't got, and if you haven't got it there is nothing you can do about it." But that was where she was wrong. There is a lot you can do about it and while you may not be able to turn out as potent a brand of "IT" as Nature does when she is in a lavish mood, you can make for yourself a synthetic substitute that is almost as good as the real thing.

To begin with, a large part of our attractiveness to our fellow creatures depends upon the desire to please them. If we want people to like us, we can make them like us. Of course, it flatters our vanity to think that we carry such an irresistible line of fascinations that every one falls for us at sight.

Unfortunately, this is not true. When we meet strangers we make no particular dent upon their consciousness unless we put forth some special effort to win their interest or their favor. We are just Mr. Blank or Miss Blank whom they have forgotten by the next day, if we have not immediately done something to please or entertain or amuse them.

The secret of popularity is hard work and self-denial. It consists in always being on the job, in always considering the pleasures and the tastes and the convenience of other people before our own. It is the reward of dancing with those who tramp on your feet, of playing cards with those who trump your ace, of enthusing over other people's cars and radios and hobbies and letting others pick out the restaurants and the theatres and the movies to which the crowd goes.

When a girl is popular it may seem to the other girls that she is one of the lucky ones to whom the gods have given "IT." Sometimes it is. Often it is because she has been willing to pay the price. It is because she has endured bore patiently. It is because she has labored like a coal heaver to make conversation with dullards. It is because she has flattered egotists and stood for senile grandpas and callow boys. It is because she has nailed the smile that won't come off on her face while she was inwardly yawning her head off. Oh, believe me, the girl who has dates has to pay and pay and pay.

If you can listen while other people tell you about themselves without retaliating by ever telling anything about yourself, your popularity is assured, and you can snap your fingers in the face of the girl who bubbles about herself and her own interests, no matter how much sex appeal she has.

To say that you must be beautiful though homely is apparently asking the impossible, yet it can be done, for no woman in these days need remain as God made her. By the simple but heroic process of counting her calories a girl can make her figure flat or thin as she pleases. If we don't like our hair, there is plenty we can do about it, and we get our complexions at the drug store instead of having to be born with them. And clothes do the rest. When we speak of a pretty woman we simply mean the effect that she produces. We do not differentiate between herself and her chiffons. For which mercy Heaven be praised.

Finally, my dear, if you would be popular, be easy to get along with. Amlability is a virtue that cashes in at far beyond its worth. Everybody likes the girl who is pleasant and sweet-tempered and adaptable, and who fits in everywhere, and who doesn't have to be continually placated and persuaded and smoothed down and generally handled with gloves.

The spoiled beauty, the selfish girl who takes the best of everything and to whom everybody has to give way, the temperamental girl whose moods and tempers keep everybody on the anxious seat, may have an attraction that draws men to them, but they cannot hold them. Men tire of them and turn from the girl who is easy to get along with and who is willing to devote some time to smoothing THEIR fur for the right way.

Perhaps the desire to please, plus interest in other people, and amlability will not make you into a vamp who will snare men at sight, but it will give you the kind of popularity that will insure you plenty of dates and a wedding ring.

Future King Spent Boyhood in Flight
"Oh, Richard!" Her face white and terrified, his mother clasped the eight-year-old boy in her arms. Richard wondered what had happened now.

For so young a boy, his life had been full of trouble. He did not quite understand it all. He knew that his father was engaged in a war, a civil war in England, and that his big brother was with him. Richard and his other brother and little sister were with their mother. They had been captured by the enemy and kept prisoners in a castle. Then they had escaped and found refuge in London. Now, Richard knew, bad news had surely come. He wondered if they were going to run away again. A big man came into the room, but he was a "lindy man," and Richard knew he was not an enemy. Quickly his mother explained. Something terrible had happened to his father. England was no longer safe for his children. The kind man was going to take Richard and his brother to Holland, where they would be safe with relatives. Dazed, Richard was bundled into Heavy clothes. His mother kissed him. He and his brother were hurried into a coach which drove away like mad to the boat that would take them away from England—perhaps forever. Such was the troubled childhood of the man who became Richard III, King of England. He was born 477 years ago to-day.

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1929

Benefic stars are strong in their influence to-day, according to astrology. Adverse influences may be felt slightly in the morning. This should be a fortunate day for those who seek employment or promotion.

It should be a lucky day for employees to seek advance in salaries or improvement in their position. The stars foretell a year in which tremendous opportunities open for the young, many of whom will achieve extraordinary fame in the future. The way is read as favorable to rulers of every sort and for all executives, especially those in government offices. It is read as pre-eminently a lucky day under which to undertake ambitious enterprises, but those of an international character should be avoided to-day.

Lawyers are to have a season of remarkable activity in which much litigation of an unusual sort is forecast. This should be a fortunate day for leaders of thought whether they belong to government affairs or to educational institutions. Education is well directed under this planetary government, which makes for university extension and improved methods of training. The later hours of this day are favorable for writers and editors. Again the stars prophesy a winter of wide reading. Financial affairs should benefit at this time when banks and bankers are to reap rewards for enterprise. The new moon of this month is read as presaging reform legislation and stringent enforcement of existing laws. Persons whose birthdate it is have the forecast of a year of much prosperity. They should seek the advice of lawyers in important matters, for their own judgment may err. Children born on this day probably will be endowed with good minds and sturdy bodies. Many subjects of this sign attain high intellectual realms.

George Bancroft, famous historian, was born on this day, 1800. It was the birthday of William Inghram Kim, 1811; bishop of the American Episcopal Church, and George Ripley, 1802, American scholar. (Copyright, 1929)

Fire Endangers Water Supply At Port Alberni

Port Alberni, Oct. 2.—Mayor Steele startled the City Council Monday evening when he stated that a forest fire burning near the city pipe line was endangering the water supply for the district. So serious had it become that it had become necessary to place guards along the pipe line in order to protect it from fire and damage from falling trees. The Alberni Pacific Lumber Mill, which uses city water for its plant, was also placing guards along the line. Mayor Steele, accompanied by the city waterworks superintendent, is making an inspection of the pipe line.

AT THE THEATRES

FIRE DEPARTMENT AIDS MOVIE MEN TO MAKE PICTURE

In order that the dangerous, heroic life of a big city's firemen could be faithfully reproduced in an unimpaired manner, the Los Angeles fire department placed every facility at the disposal of the F. B. O. Pictures corporation during the recent filming of "Hook and Ladder No. 9," being shown at the Columbia Theatre. The moving picture company received every assistance and the full co-operation of the department in turning out the film.

TALKIE PICTURE, "IN OLD ARIZONA," AT THE COLISEUM

That much talked of film, "In Old Arizona," with a splendid cast of well-known stars and supporting players, is the feature screen attraction at the Coliseum Theatre all this week, where it is being produced over a new talkie machine installed last week. The voices are clear and every syllable and sound issuing from the screen is heard in even the most remote corner of the house.

COUNTY KERRY REPRODUCED FOR CAPITOL FILM

If a traveler from Kiarney's lakes and dells had happened to step into Colleen Moore's set at the First National Telephone Studio while "Smiling Irish Eyes," now showing at the Capitol Theatre, was being made, he might be pardoned for thinking he had been miraculously transported back to the "Old Sod."

KIPLING'S WORDS APTLY DESCRIBE PICTURE'S THEME

"... Somewhere east of Suez, where the best is like the worst, where there ain't no ten commandments, and a man can raise a thirst," aptly describes the locale of "Black Magic," the powerful Fox Film drama now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

ADVENTURES OF FOUR ACROBATS TOLD IN FILM

A talking treat is offered to-day at the Dominion Theatre, where the Fox Movietone picture, "4 Devils" is playing. Janet Gaynor, popular screen star, is to be heard in her initial dialogue role, supported by such favorites as Mary Duncan, Charles Morton, Barry Norton, Nancy Drexel and Farrell Macdonald, who also speak their parts.

GYRO SHOW OPENS HERE TO-MORROW

"Keep 'Em Smiling" Will Play at Royal Victoria Theatre Three Nights

Litling Music and Pretty Dancing Combine With Humorous Plot

With a cast of nearly eighty people, all of whom are of this city, the Gyro Club show "Keep 'Em Smiling," which opens to-morrow night at the Royal Victoria Theatre for a three-day run is reputed to be the finest entertainment of its nature yet staged by the club.

During the last five years the club has entertained local theatre-goers annually with a musical comedy show of this type and has scored great successes, besides bringing to the front the talent of several local vocalists and dancers.

FINE PLOT

This year's show, which is under the personal direction of Miss Mabelle C. Bick, consists of three acts, full of excellent comedy, litling music and pretty dancing. The plot deals with the adventures of one Henry Trimble, a meek and mild business clerk, who suddenly finds himself thrust into complications arising in his domestic life, brings about a number of ludicrous situations with humorous appeal.
